ROSSITER PAID BY PROVINCIALS; TRIED TO SELL DOCUMENTS

Former Railway Department Accountant Admits He Gets $250 a Month as Salary From McRae Forces and Has Promise of Permanent Position if Provincial Party is Elected; Tells How His Plan to Sell Official Papers to Conservative Party Fell Through.

E. J. Rossiter, former accountant of the Railway Department and star witness of the Provincial Party, admitted to Mr. Justice Galliher, Royal Commissioner on Pacific Great Eastern Railway affairs, to-day that he was in the regular pay of the Provincial Party and that he had offered to sell copies of Government railway documents to the Conservative Party for $5,000. This admission came as a climax to Mr. Rossiter's long, grilling cross-examination by S. S. Taylor, K.C., senior Government counsel, who started systematically to disprove all the witness's charges against the Government.

Mr. Rossiter said he had told the Provincial Party leaders when he handed Railway Department papers to them that they would have to "find him a position until the election." This the Provincial Party had done, he added. He was being paid $250 a month now, he stated—$75 a month more than he had received in the Railway Department. He produced one of his cheques from the Provincial Party signed by Ashworth Anderson and A. M. Whiteside, and drawn on the Union Bank.

Rossiter admitted further that he had received from the Provincial Party the promise of a permanent position if the party were returned to power at the next election.

When Mr. Rossiter made this statement A. H. MacNeill, K.C., senior counsel for the Provincial Party, whispered something to his colleagues.

"Mr. MacNeill says your statement about a permanent job is not true," Mr. Taylor declared.

"Did he say there was no promise?" Mr. Rossiter demanded, sitting up straight in his chair.

"Oh, I was just talking to Sir Charles Tupper," Mr. MacNeill retorted, amid a general burst of laughter in which Mr. MacNeill joined heartily.

Mr. Rossiter admitted that the permanent position which he had been promised had not been specified nor had the salary been fixed. He added that since he had started to testify before the Royal Commission he had been given $100 extra—for expenses, he supposed. When Mr. Taylor asked him if he were expected to "come through" handsomely with evidence in return for these moneys, Mr. Rossiter replied that he was expected "to tell the truth."

Mr. Rossiter told the Commissioner frankly how he had agreed to sell to the Conservative Party for $5,000 papers copied from the original documents on the Railway Department's files. This deal, however, had come to nothing, he said, and he had not received a cent for the papers in the end, either from the Conservatives or the Provincial Party. He explained that he considered it "in the public interest" to make copies of the Railway Department documents and take them with him when he left office.

By the end of the morning session Mr. Taylor had plunged into an exhaustive cross-examination in an attempt to show that all Mr. Rossiter's charges, contained in affidavits and published in The Searchlight, organ of the Provincial Party, were without foundation.

PEOPLE'S DUTY TO ASSIST IN CRISIS

Y.M.C.A. Faces Serious Alternative; Must Have $85,000 to Keep Operating

"Victoria has reached a real crisis, when the Y.M.C.A. is faced with but two alternatives, the collecting of $85,000 for the lifting of the association's debt, or the loss of the present building," said G. A. Warburton, directing the campaign for funds which is being waged at the present time. "This is a community crisis, and the loss of the Y.M.C.A. will affect the community as a whole," he said.

"Our committees canvassing the city are working very hard and faithfully, but we are not getting the response that we expected," he said. "Although there are many generous-hearted persons who are giving liberally to the wants of the association, yet as a whole individuals seem disinterested in the entire project. Officials and committeemen still have confidence that the objective will be reached, and the start yesterday was convincing enough for such expectations.

Up to last night the total of funds collected was $23,393. During the morning canvassers reported progress all over the city, but stated that they were not meeting wit hsuch success as had been anticipated. However, several donations of $500 helped to swell the fund, and better conditions are looked for this afternoon, and in the remaining two days of the campaign.

Three teams from the young men's group began canvassing work this morning, and reported satisfactory progress. They believe that they will have no difficulty in passing the objective set for them. These three teams are composed of the younger members of the association, who are covering a heavy list of names for possible donations.

Honduras Without Government After President's Death

Washington, March 12.—The death of former President Gutierrez and the consequent increased activities of revolutionary factions have left Honduras for the time being without any government whatever.

Members of the diplomatic corps succeeded in bringing about a seventy-one-hour armistice, which began at 5 p.m. last Monday, between the revolutionary leaders.

New Freight Record Made at Sarnia Tunnel

Sarnia, Ont., March 12—A record in freight volume in one day was broken here on Sunday last, officials of the Canadian National Railways reported to-day. On Sunday 1,398 cars of freight passed through the Sarnia tunnel, the nearest approach to which was 1,360 cars in one day nearly twenty years ago. Heavy movements in automobiles, flour and feed and perishable goods are prominent in the present heavy traffic.

Eight of Crew of Ss. Orduna Arrested In New York To-day

New York, March 12.—Agents of the federal narcotic division led by United States Attorney William Haywood early to-day boarded the steamship Orduna of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, arrested eight of the crew, including two officers, and seized $10,000 worth of alleged whisky and morphine.

LOW EXPRESS RATES IN EAST INCREASE B.C. RATES, STATES McGEER

Counsel For This Province Tells Railway Commission He Will Outline New Basis of Operation Whereby Both Railways and People Can Prosper

Ottawa, March 12.—That low express rates in Eastern Canada make it necessary for the operating companies to apply high rates in British Columbia was the contention of G. G. McGeer, K.C., representing British Columbia, at to-day's session of the hearing by the Railway Commission of the application of the Express Traffic Association for an increase in rates.

E. E. Lloyd, Assistant Comptroller of the Canadian Pacific Railway, said under cross-examination that in the accounting methods used by the C.P.R. the actual cost of operating the express business could not be ascertained by zones. The only information available was the car mile cost of operation, arrived at by an arbitrary division of passenger and express accounts, which were kept together.

When asked if it was possible to justify, from an accounting point of view, the higher express rates in British Columbia, Mr. Lloyd said it developed that operation in British Columbia was costing more than elsewhere.

"Would you agree," asked Mr. McGeer, "that the C.P.R. accounts are in an extremely healthy condition?"

"Not exactly that," replied Mr. Lloyd.

SURPLUS EVERY YEAR

There had never been a year go by without a surplus, suggested Mr. McGeer.

That was true, was the reply, but large sums had been put back into property.

Mr. Lloyd said in evidence that the C.P.R. had to practice extreme economy since 1914 "in order to keep down fixed charges and not make it necessary to ask for an increase in rates."

Mr. McGeer told the commission that he proposed to place before it a basis of operation whereby both the railways and the people could prosper.

PROFIT IS CLAIMED

From evidence produced before the Commission, G. R. Geary, K.C. counsel for the city of Toronto, contended that the Canadian Pacific Railway's claims that the Dominion Express Company had been operating at a loss were inaccurate. In the statement of accounts of the Canadian Pacific Railway it was shown, he said, that the actual cost of express car operation was 38.82 cents a car mile, while the actual income from the operation was 36.02 cents a car mile.

CHARGED TO EXPRESS

Under cross-examination Mr. Lloyd stated certain features of traffic expenses not bearing directly upon the

ASKS RELEASE OF CLERGY IN RUSSIA

Pope Appeals to Premier MacDonald to Influence Soviet Government

MacDonald is of the Opinion Present is Inopportune Time For Such Action

London, March 12—Pope Pius, according to The Daily Telegraph, has asked Premier MacDonald to intercede with the Soviet Government in behalf of the Catholic clergy imprisoned in Russia.

It is learned in governmental quarters that Mr. MacDonald is anxious to act on the papal appeal, but feels the matter is one of such delicacy that he cannot with propriety at this juncture interpose such a request into the negotiations with Moscow.

STORM CAUSED SEVEN DEATHS

Atlantic Seaboard of U.S. Buffeted by Very Heavy Winds

New York, March 12—Unspent after twenty-four hours yesterday's storm blew northeastward along the New England coast today, buffeting shore towns and lashing the inland country. The weather forecaster said it would last throughout the day.

The gale was abetted by a dense fall of snow and wire communication was badly hampered.

Seven lives were known to have been lost, five in New York City and two in Philadelphia, and many persons were injured.

Despite the great winds, which reached seventy-two miles an hour at Atlantic City, shipping came into port and left, fighting high tides in the dangerous bay channels. Small craft were kept generally to shore.

Virginia received the heaviest blows yesterday, and for hours the state was cut off from the world. Much damage was done in Pennsylvania, as it was in New Jersey and along the Long Island shore last night.

FIGURES INDICATE MARRIAGE INCREASES IN POPULARITY

Ottawa, March 12.—Marriage seems to be increasing in popularity. According to a census bulletin issued to-day, the proportion of married persons in each sex was greater in 1921, when the last census was taken, than in either 1911 or 1901. In 1921 the percentage of married miles was 37.49 and the married females 38.32. In 1911 the percentages of married males was 34.85 and the married females 36.97.

JOINT WELCOME TO SQUADRON

Conference Approves of Arrangements For Reception to British Fleet

Free Transportation to be Provided For Sailors While in Port

FORMAL APPROVAL

Mayor Hayward has received a message from Vice-Admiral Sir F. L. Field, in command of the British Special Service Squadron, agreeing to recommend the amended dates of the fleet's visit to these waters, provided that the Mayor of Victoria agrees. The message is addressed from Melbourne through Commander Keyes, official representative in Vancouver, and accordingly His Worship is cabling approval of the change. The procedure will now be for the Admiral to communicate with the British Admiralty for confirmation of the alteration, which will result in the battle cruisers being here from June 21 to 24, and in Vancouver June 24 to July 4, with the light cruiser fleet here throughout.

The conference between the representatives of the City of Vancouver and the City of Victoria, the British Special Service Squadron Entertainment Committees, held in Vancouver yesterday afternoon, proved more successful than had been anticipated, for not only were outstanding difficulties adjusted, but Vancouver promised every aid in securing funds from the Federal and Provincial Governments for the entertainment, and it was also announced that the B. C. Electric Railway, both in Vancouver and Victoria, would give passes for the sailors on all city lines on the Lower Mainland and Island. This concession will not apply to interurban lines.

Mayor Owen occupied the chair.

Commander A. St. V. Keyes, C.B.E., D.S.O., R.N. (retired), acted as secretary of the meeting.

APPRECIATE ARRANGEMENT

The letter from Alderman John Harvey, chairman of the citizen's committee in Victoria, was read introducing the two delegates from the Victoria executive.

Mayor Owen stated how heartily Vancouver reciprocated the spirit of co-operation desired by the City of Victoria, and extended the warmest welcome to Capt. F. James, R.N. (retired), vice-chairman of the Victoria organization, and to W. Miller Higgs, the secretary, and requested that the City of Vancouver should be notified in time for a delegation to be sent to co-operate with Victoria when a meeting should be arranged between the Victoria committee and the Provincial Government in relation to a provincial grant towards the entertainment of the fleet. Mayor Owen said he more than welcomed and appreciated the spirit of true co-operation between the Capital City and Vancouver as evidenced in the matter, and said that such was bound to bring benefits which could not be obtained in any other way.

ELEVEN SAILORS WERE RESCUED AFTER SHIP SANK OFF CAROLINA

Believed Twenty-six Members of Crew of Steamship Santiago Drowned When Disaster Overtook Craft Sixty Miles South of Cape Hatteras; Vessel Plied Between New York and Cuba

New York, March 12.—Twenty-six members of the crew of the steamship Santiago, reported to have sunk sixty miles south of Cape Hatteras, are believed to have been lost, according to officials of the New York and Cuba Mail Steamship Company, owners of the missing vessel.

A wireless message sent by the steamship Cissy reported the picking up of one lifeboat containing eleven survivors, but no other boats were seen.

Charleston, S.C., March 12.—The steamship Santiago sank sixty miles south of Cape Hatteras, according to a radio message intercepted to-day by the Charleston Navy Yard wireless station.

The wireless message, sent by the Norwegian steamship Cissy, reported the picking up of one lifeboat containing eleven survivors. It said:

"Picked up lifeboat containing six sailors, four firemen and one carpenter from the steamship Santiago, which sank sixty miles south of Hatteras. No other lifeboats seen. Proceeding Baltimore."

It was signed "Captain."

CHINA ABOUT TO RECOGNIZE SOVIET

No Japanese Overtures Yet, But Ministers Are Discussing the Subject

With Domestic Problems Handled, Japanese Cabinet Turns to Foreign Affairs

Peking, March 12—Negotiations looking toward recognition of Soviet Russia by the Peking Government are reported to be approaching a successful conclusion as a result of a series of conferences between Dr. C. T. Wang, accredited spokesman of the Peking Government, and Lev Mikhailovitch Karakhan, Soviet envoy to the Far East.

The report by Dr. Wang on the conversations is being considered by the Cabinet, which, while virtually accepting the recommendations in principle, it is said, desires more extended discussion of methods to be employed in reaching an adjustment of outstanding controversies between the two Governments.

JAPAN'S ATTITUDE

Tokio, March 12—Categorical denial of reports from Moscow that Japan had made overtures for formal Russo-Japanese negotiations was made to-day by the Foreign Office here. It was authoritatively learned, however, that the question of Russian recognition has reached a new stage as far as the Tokio Cabinet is concerned.

At the Ministers' last session, to which Foreign Minister Mitsui submitted a lengthy report concerning the Russian situation, there was a discussion as to whether the time was ripe to consider resumption of relations. No decision was reached, but there are good reasons for believing the Cabinet, which hitherto has been concerned almost exclusively with domestic problems, now has turned seriously to the question of Soviet recognition.

SEE NO REASON TO PAY COST OF WOMAN JUDGE

Deputation Meets Premier Regarding Juvenile Court

Opinions of Officials Said to be Adverse to Plan

Premier Oliver received a deputation composed of Mayor Hayward, Aldermen Marchant and Sangster, to discuss with them this morning the expediency of appointing a woman judge of the juvenile court in Victoria and three adjacent municipalities.

The Premier pointed out frankly that deputations of women were constantly insisting that the Government should exercise its prerogative and set up a court and detention home, but that the municipalities had shown no desire to ask for the creation of the proposed jurisdiction.

It will be recalled that the City Council recently by resolution asked the Attorney-General to indicate why he thinks a woman judge should be appointed for Greater Victoria, and why he believes the municipalities and not the Provincial Government should meet the bill. This came in answer to a formal desire to make financial provision in the estimates, conveyed through the Attorney-General.

The delegation to-day told the head of the Government that the majority of the council objected to pay the bill when they had already a judge for the juvenile court in whom they had confidence. The minority of the members, among whom was numbered Alderman Marchant, believed in the principle of a woman judge, but thought it was an unnecessary expense at this time to shoulder on the taxpayers.

Alderman Sangster justified his stand against the court by filing the official statements of the city health officer and chief of police, which were said both to be distinctly adverse to the project.

The Mayor told the Premier that no provision had been made in the estimates to deal with the subject.

The Premier thanked the deputation for its information, and data which was left with him.

CLUB HOUSE IN TORONTO BURNED

Sporting Equipment of Several Organizations Destroyed

Toronto, March 12.—Another of Toronto's old landmarks went up in flames and created something of a spectacle early this morning when the Rosedale Country Club, located in the grounds of St. Andrew's College, was burned to the ground with the complete loss of its contents. The loss has not been estimated.

The building was the old Toronto Lacrosse Club and was erected at least thirty years ago. Of late it had been used as the headquarters for the Rosedale Club and it held a large equipment of sporting goods, representing the outfits of the members of the various Rosedale cricket, tennis, bowling and curling clubs.

Negotiations For Tutankhamen Tomb Work Collapse

Egypt, March 12.—Negotiations for a peaceful solution of the controversy over the tomb of Tutankhamen collapsed yesterday and it is understood the Egyptian Government has withdrawn its offer of a new concession to the Countess of Carnarvon to carry on the work in the tomb begun by her late husband.

The breaking off of negotiations was due to a remark made in court by the lawyer representing the Carnarvon trustees, who referred to the Egyptian Ministers who closed the tomb at Luxor as bandits.

Delhi Government Is Not Accepting Swarajists' Views Regarding Budget

London, March 12.—According to The Daily Telegraph's Delhi correspondent, the sudden change of front of the Nationalists in the Legislative Assembly yesterday, whereby they agreed to continue discussion of the budget proposals, was largely due to the firm attitude of Sir Malcolm Hailey and Sir Basil Blackett, who declared the Government "under no circumstances would surrender to the Assembly's folly."

It was partly due, the writer claims, to the "disintegration of the Nationalist Party because of the jealousy of some members over the dictatorial methods of C. R. Das, Nationalist leader, who engineered the scheme for rejection of the budget, and to the animosity between the Hindus and Moslems within the party.

The correspondent declares Das's action was largely bluff and that the opinion is that the Swarajists' turnabout indicated an effort to prevent the breakaway of a large independent section of Das's camp.

RESCUERS FIGHTING FIRE IN COAL MINE

Castlegate, Utah, March 12.—As the result of fire which is burning in a section of Utah Fuel Company's Mine No. 2, rescue work has been halted, and the relief crews are combating the flames.

THIRD PARTY EFFORTS IN U.S.

St. Paul, Minn., March 12.—Call for a national convention of political organizations favorable to the "Third Party" movement to be held in St. Paul, June 17, was issued here to-day by a conference of delegates from eight states.

The purpose of the convention, as stated in the call, is to nominate a president and vice-president and adopt a national platform. Thirteen organizations were represented at the conference.

Senator Robert M. Lafollette, of Wisconsin, was most prominently mentioned as the probable choice of the June 17 convention for the presidential nomination.

DISCREDITS AIM OF PROVINCIAL PARTY

General A. D. McRae Only Wishes Control of Government to Further Personal Gain, Charges Hon. J. D. MacLean; Points to Danger of Foreign Assimilation of British Columbia Timber Resources

The real motive behind the agitation of the Provincial Party is the desire of General A. D. McRae and his American timber-holding associates to gain control of the natural resources of British Columbia and escape increased timber royalties, Hon. J. D. MacLean, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Railways, charged in a vigorous speech before the Ward Three Liberal Association in Shelbourne Street Hall last night.

"The question you will be called upon to decide at the next election is: 'Will the citizens of British Columbia or foreigners control the natural resources of the Province?'" Dr. MacLean declared emphatically.

"The lord of Port Mann," Dr. MacLean remarked, referring to General McRae, "is not spending hundreds of thousands of dollars on publicity and paid workers to benefit the common people of British Columbia."

ORIGIN OF THIRD PARTY

Dealing with the records of the Provincial Party leaders, Dr. MacLean called them exploiters of the natural resources of the country, corporation lawyers and disappointed office-seekers from the Conservative and Liberal parties. The new party, he said, had its origin in the minds of opponents of the Oliver Government who felt that the Conservative Party could never be elected to office under the leadership of W. J. Bowser, K.C.

Another and more important motive that actuated the Provincial Party, he went on, was a desire on the part of its leaders to obtain control of the Government of the Province in order that General McRae and his American friends who held timber here could escape increased royalties on their timber holdings.

Dr. MacLean noted with a smile the way the Provincial party was carrying out its plan to elevate public life in this Province. He read from the party's organ, The Searchlight, some of the fierce epithets applied by the party to members of the Oliver Government. These epithets, he added, were a choice lot, emanating from a self-styled "gentlemen's party." Among them were these gems—"Descendants of Annanias," "blackmailers," "hired assassins" and "thieves."

Athens, March 12.—A bomb was exploded early this morning at the entrance to the British Legation here, causing material damage but injuring no one. Greek officials expressed the belief that the incident was staged in an effort to discredit the Government.

The Premier and the Minister of the Interior expressed the regrets of the Greek Government to the British Minister for the outrage.

An inquiry was opened under the direction of British police officials and several suspects were detained.

express business were charged to express in the auditing.

The division of the insurance accounts, station employees' wages and insurance costs also affected express charges, it was stated.

By an analysis of the operating cost per car mile, given by the C.P.R. as 38.82 cents, Mr. Geary contended, through evidence given, that the actual cost of operating an express car was only 34.05 cents a car mile. The revenue being 36.02 cents, according to the C.P.R. statement, Mr. Geary claimed the company was really making a profit. If the proper deductions had been made from the operating costs, he said, it would be shown that the company was actually getting more than it asked for from the express branch.

SALE OF TICKETS

The cost of the sale of passenger tickets and the expenses of procuring business for the passenger department could not be fairly borne by the express department in any way, contended Mr. Geary. It was also stated in the evidence that damages paid as a result of injury to persons struck by trains was shared by the express department because the express car was considered part of the train which committed the injury.

BRAZIL BECKONS TO JAPANESE

Argentine Also Bidding For Brown Men to Replace Dwindling Immigrants

Nipponese Government Planning Emigration of Stricken Populace

Southern Brazil before the European war was a favored location for Japanese immigrants, who went to the coffee plantations, but the movement was entirely by private enterprise. Since the war, while there have been many Germans return, the movement from Italy and Spain to Brazil and the Argentine has steadily declined. Announcement is made in the Japanese newspapers to hand on the liner Empress of Australia this morning that the Brazilian Government, and also the provincial government of Buenos Ayres, in the Argentine Republic, have formally invited Japanese immigrants.

The Japanese Government has decided to grant $100 per family to all refugees and others who suffered the loss of their homes in the great earthquake last September to transport them to the South American continent.

There are stated to be many earthquake refugees in Tokio, Chiba, Kanagawa, and adjacent prefectures, which suffered most by the catastrophe. It is proposed to send out 100 families in April.

A larger plan of exporting the surplus population of the densely settled areas of Japan is reported to be in hand, by the creating of a company with a capital of from $20,000,000 to $25,000,000, headed by some of the leading financiers. The capital raised by private enterprise will be doubled by the Government. The intention is to promote an active movement of emigration to South American countries. The Government is said to be favorably disposed towards the movement.

JOINT WELCOME TO SQUADRON

NATIONAL QUESTION

Capt. James spoke on behalf of Mayor Hayward, and the citizen's committee of Victoria, thanking Mayor Owen for his remarks. He stated that it was felt that this welcome upon the Pacific coast was not so much Victoria and Vancouver's reception, but that of the Dominion, seeing that their cities were the first to have the privilege of extending Canada's welcome upon the Pacific seaboard to the finest British fleet which had ever entered Canadian waters, and as such the Victoria executive suggested that a joint invitation be extended to the mayors and reeves of every Western Canadian city and municipality—from the Mayors of Victoria and Vancouver—to form the reception committee for each of their two cities. He also stated that it was felt that Victoria and Vancouver should unite in their application to the Federal Government in the matter of an adequate grant being made to enable them to extend a fitting reception.

FEDERAL GRANT

Mayor Owen then asked Mr. Miller Higgs to give the meeting an outline of the suggested joint invitation, which with amendments was heartily endorsed together with the suggestion of joint action in the matter of a Dominion grant, which Commander A. St. V. Keyes would take up with the authorities in Ottawa upon his visit there next week.

SECRETARY RETURNS

Secretary Miller Higgs returned to Victoria on the midnight boat, while Capt. F. James remained over to carry out details in connection with the two cities joint invitation to the mayors and reeves of British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba. No less than 1,400 invitations will be given, and great care is being exercised that no place, however small, will be overlooked.

SEE NO REASON TO PAY COST OF WOMAN JUDGE

The subject was discussed briefly yesterday in Council, Alderman Marchant defending the principle of juvenile courts.

Several speakers urged that the Council should know what the district municipalities would contribute to the cost.

Aldermen Todd and Sangster opposed the plan, saying it was unnecessary.

PRECEDENT FOR CHURCH UNION

Dr. Gandier, Moderator, Says Plan of the Presbyterian Unionists' Has Sanction

Describes Effort Against Ottawa Petition as a Means to Delay Change

Toronto, March 12—Dr. Alfred Gandier, Moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly, discussing the notification to the Federal Government by anti-church unionists of alleged technical disqualification of the petition for church union before Parliament, said this action was only a means further to delay proceedings at Ottawa.

"It is true," he said, "the Presbyterian Church is not incorporated, but by the Union Act of 1874 the church is recognised at law. The church at that time was not incorporated, but powers to unite churches were given it, so we have a precedent."

QUESTION OF NOTICE

Ottawa, March 12 (Canadian Press)—An additional technical objection has been raised in regard to the regularity of the Church Union Bill. The point at issue in this objection is the sufficiency of the notice given by the advocates of the measure.

Under the rules of the House of Commons, specific conditions are set out regarding the publication of notice of private bills to be introduced into Parliament, and the provision which is held to cover the present application has to do with a bill "for doing any matter or thing which in its operation would affect the rights or property of others."

In connection with such bills, the rule requires, in addition to publication in The Canada Gazette, publication also in "some leading newspaper" in the "locality or localities which may be affected by the proposed act."

IN ALL TOWNS

In the case of the Church Union Bill, the point has been brought up that this rule may require publication in a newspaper in every place where there is any church property which would be affected by the act. If this point is to be pressed, it is likely the House officials will take steps to have the petition for the bill referred to the Committee of the House on Standing Orders, to which it is customary to refer questions as to doubt of the regularity of private bills.

HAPPY VALLEY PIONEER IS DEAD

FRANC ON THE PARIS MARKET STRONGER AT 25.2 TO DOLLAR TO-DAY

Paris, March 12.—Before the Bourse opened to-day the dollar was quoted at 25.8 francs (equivalent to about 3.88 cents for the franc) and then declined until at noon the quotation was 25.2 francs (about 3.97 cents for the franc).

The firm of Morgan, Harjes & Company was given the principal credit on the Bourse for supporting the franc yesterday and precipitating the rise, which continued this morning, so that the dollar quotation at noon was two francs below yesterday's opening.

ROSSITER PAID BY PROVINCIALS; TRIED TO SELL DOCUMENTS

FINNERTY ACCOUNTS

Before the opening of this morning's session S. S. Taylor, K.C., senior Government counsel, pressed for the production of the settlement accounts of P. J. Finnerty, former contractor for the Northern Construction Company. It was intimated that Finnerty will be the Provincial Party's next witness.

Government counsel stressed the fact that all papers relative to the Northern Construction Company's contract had been produced to assist the inquiry.

Letters between the Northern Construction Company and A. F. Proctor, chief engineer of the Railway Department, and between Mr. Proctor and E. J. Rossiter, railway accountant of the department, were produced by Government counsel to prove Premier Oliver, as Minister of Railways, had taken prompt measures to adjust all accounts which Mr. Rossiter complained were regular. This, Mr. Taylor explained, was to refute Mr. Rossiter's affivadits in which he declares that the Premier and Mr. Proctor took no action on his complaints.

Finally a letter from Mr. Rossiter and Mr. Proctor, summarizing the whole question of P.G.E. accounts, was read. In this Mr. Rossiter says that one sum of $5,000 and other items "amounting to some thousands of dollars for which no proper vouchers have been received" are still under dispute as well as sums covering the transportation of employees and their freight. In regard to the items for which no vouchers had been received Mr. Rossiter adds that he understands that proper receipts or vouchers will be forthcoming in due course. Mr. Rossiter suggests that the total cost of employees' personal freight carried on the P.G.E. be deducted from the money due to the contractors. Mr. Rossiter complains that the staff of the contractors at their headquarters has been doing its business with laxity and has paid a number of accounts twice. He suggests that an investigation will reveal further laxity.

Mr. Rossiter declares that the salary account of a line auditor is an erroneous charge as no line auditor has been employed. He argues, too, that the contractors, under their contract, should pay part of the salaries of railway superintendence.

A letter from Mr. Rossiter to the contractors protesting against its loose payroll accounts also was read. Mr. Rossiter complains about the way in which these rolls are corrected in pencil and are generally slovenly in their make up.

I. W. de B. Farris, counsel for the Northern Construction Company, explained that the payrolls were prepared in railway camps under very adverse conditions and often in bad weather. These conditions made it difficult, he said, to keep payrolls neat.

Mr. Rossiter testified that he had heard from Leo Beaumont, a Government official, that employees were getting supplies from the contractors' commissariat in excess of the proper allowance supposed to be allowed them. Rossiter added that when he took this matter up with Mr. Proctor he had met with a storm of abuse, and Mr. Proctor's warning that he was interfering in affairs that did not concern him. Mr. Oliver, he said, had referred him to Mr. Proctor.

MATERIAL TENDERS

Witness declared that he had taken up with Mr. Proctor also the desirability of calling for tenders for material needed in the railway project. Mr. Proctor had replied that the contractors had certain firms with which they did business, and he was satisfied with their arrangements.

Witness recalled that he had urged that charges for workmen's compensation should not go through the hands of the contractors, so that the contractors' commission on this money could be saved. He had urged also that money paid for the transportation of freight should be handled in the same way, so that the contractors' commission should not be charged on these freight charges.

Mr. Farris sprang to his feet to deny that freight had been handled in any way but that suggested by Mr. Rossiter. Rossiter's statement in this regard, he declared, was false.

Finally Rossiter swore that the contractors' commission had been paid on workmen's compensation and freight charges.

Government counsel wanted to know whether the charges were on freight hauled on the line itself or by water to Squamish. It had been arranged, they explained, that the company could charge commission on the water haul. Mr. Rossiter admitted that he could not say whether the freight in question had traveled by water or on the railway.

VITAL POINT

Government counsel insisted that this was the vital point. It was intimated that the matter would be discussed further to show that the contractors had not violated the contract.

A. H. MacNeill, K.C., senior counsel for the Provincial Party, finally filed letters from Mr. Oliver and Mr. Proctor to Mr. Rossiter on the eve of his retirement from the Railway Department. The Premier and Mr. Proctor both expressed regret over the accountant's resignation and warmly praised his integrity and efficiency.

Mr. Rossiter was then turned over to Mr. Taylor for cross-examination. Mr. Taylor questioned him about his early association with the Railway Department and his experience as a stenographer and bookkeeper in an oil company near Vancouver. He said that he had worked in a lumber mill office before joining the oil company.

Since leaving the Government service he had been employed by Clifton S. Brown, insurance agent, of Vancouver. He had known, he said, that Mr. Brown was a prominent Liberal. He admitted that he had taken forty or fifty Government documents with him on leaving the Railway Department. At Mr. Taylor's request witness produced a number of papers and promised that during the noon recess he would produce all the papers he had taken. He had taken only one original document, a letter from the Premier which he considered personal and his own property.

"I never stole anything in my life and you can't prove I did!" Rossiter flashed back at Mr. Taylor.

In the letter which Mr. Oliver wrote to witness the Premier says he cannot treat Mr. Rossiter's previous letter as confidential. Mr. Taylor argued that on this account the letter should have been filed. Mr. Rossiter persisted that he had been justified in keeping the letter.

Witness described how he had taken short-hand notes of numerous documents so as to have evidence in case he needed it. He had not told the Premier or Mr. Proctor that he was making these copies.

"Then you got your letters of commendation from Mr. Oliver and Mr. Proctor when you left with these copies of public documents in your pocket?" Mr. Taylor demanded.

Witness admitted that this was so but added, "that no evidence of bad character."

Mr. Taylor asked if witness knew that he would not have received testimonials from Mr. Proctor and the Premier if they had been aware of his action in copying Government documents. Witness said he did not know what was in the minds of the Premier and Mr. Rossiter.

DRAFTED TESTIMONIAL

Rossiter testified that he had drafted the Premier's testimonial and the Premier agreed to sign it. He thought he had drafted it in pencil. When Mr. Taylor produced a typewritten letter and asked witness if it were the draft he had made witness said he could not be sure whether it was or not.

Mr. Taylor read the Premier's testimonial, in which he regrets that Mr. Rossiter is leaving the service to secure a better position, but adds that he is glad Mr. Rossiter is bettering himself. Mr. Rossiter is also praised in this letter for his loyalty and efficiency. The Premier says he had been told of Mr. Rossiter's work by Mr. Proctor.

"You didn't tell Mr. Oliver at that time that you were packing away copies of forty or fifty public documents?" Mr. Taylor demanded.

"That was in the public interest," witness replied amid laughter from Government counsel.

During further examination, witness remarked that he would not like to say what he thought of Mr. Proctor. He had no reason to believe, however, that Mr. Proctor's testimonial was anything but sincere.

Mr. Taylor then took up Mr. Rossiter's affidavits as published in the Provincial Party's Searchlight.

PURITY PARTY

"Oh, I thought it was pure but it isn't, evidently," Mr. Taylor retorted.

Mr. Taylor proceeded to examine Mr. Rossiter on his affidavits. Witness said he was quite aware that if there was anything false in these affidavits he would be liable for perjury. He took full responsibility for everything in the affidavits, he said. He agreed to produce the originals of these affidavits after the noon recess. He had parted with these documents to the Provincial Party in October, 1923. He had given them to Ashworth Anderson, of Vancouver, he said.

Asked if he had tried to deal with any other person but Mr. Anderson witness admitted that he had done so. He said he attempted to deal with S. L. Howe, of Vancouver, a prominent Conservative, and W. K. Esling, Conservative member for Rossland in the Legislature some fifteen months ago. He had first seen Mr. Howe in Vancouver in a tea room on Seymour Street. No one but Mr. Howe and he were present. He had seen Mr. Esling with Mr. Howe in the St. Regis Hotel, Vancouver. They had met in a room which he supposed had been engaged by Mr. Esling. He denied that he had engaged the room but he had suggested the engagement of the room to Mr. Howe.

"I never paid for the room," witness declared. He admitted later that he might have engaged the room for the conference.

At the St. Regis Hotel meeting witness had produced an affidavit. He said through A. S. Milne, of Vancouver, the sum of $5,000 for this affidavit was demanded. He had not asked himself for money. Mr. Howe had said that witness had wanted $5,000 for P.G.E. information. Witness had not denied that he wanted this money.

Mr. Taylor said he had been instructed that Mr. Rossiter had made a direct offer to sell the documents of $5,000 and asked Mr. Rossiter if this were true.

"Well, it amounted to the same thing anyway," witness replied. He would not answer Mr. Taylor directly, but remarked that his action had amounted to a direct offer which he was prepared to explain later.

Mr. Rossiter was given an opportunity to explain these transactions. He said when he left the Railway Department he had been employed in a firm in Vancouver in which Charles E. Campbell, of Vancouver, who, he understood, was interested in the Northern Construction Company. Soon afterwards Mr. Milne had come to him and asked what information he had for Mr. Bowser. He had replied that this would cost $5,000, thinking that this would end the matter. Mr. Howe, however, had asked to see him anyway, and he had agreed to see him, thinking that this would make him more secure in his position with Mr. Brown and Mr. Campbell.

APPEAL WON BY ARTHUR EVANS

Court of Appeal Rules Sentence Should Not be Imposed on Victoria Man

Case, in Which Soldiers Were Involved, Had to do With Army Stores

Vancouver, March 12—The appeal of Arthur Evans, proprietor of the Dallas Hotel, Victoria, from a conviction by Judge Lampman, who found the appellant guilty of having in possession blankets and other articles which he knew had been stolen from Work Point Barracks, has been allowed by the Court of Appeal, which was unanimous in its judgment.

Chief Justice Macdonald stated that in view of the contradictory stories told by Kelly, the principal Crown witness, it was unsafe to convict Evans.

Mr. Justice Martin remarked that Evans's conduct was "strongly suspicious, and he acted worse than incautiously," but he should receive the benefit of the doubt. His Lordship added that he shared with the trial judge the belief that Kelly was trying to shield the accused.

In a long judgment, read by Mr. Justice McPhillips, that judge stated Kelly's evidence was wholly unsatisfactory, that he was convicted on testimony which was wholy valueless, that there was no evidence that the accused knew Kelly was a soldier, and that all the surrounding facts were consistent with the innocence of the accused. Out of kindness, the judge said, Evans allowed Kelly to place the goods in an outbuilding of the hotel premises. If an explanation, which might reasonably be true, was offered by the accused then he was entitled to be acquitted of the charge, said the judge.

Evans had been sentenced to imprisonment for one year in Oakalla prison by Judge Lampman. This punishment is now remitted.

Evans was arrested following investigation by the Victoria office of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police into a reported theft of blankets and other army stores from the Ogden Point dump of the Ordnance Corps. He was charged with retaining possession of stolen goods and convicted by Magistrate Jay in the city police court. Three soldiers, charged with purloining some of the articles taken, were convicted and granted suspended sentence, after their discharge from the service.

The appellant appealed to the county court from the conviction, and the appeal was dismissed by Judge Lampman. Evans, who is the proprietor of the Dallas Hotel, took his appeal to the Court of Appeal, where judgment was rendered today.

forthcoming from the campaign headquarters this morning. The committees will work late into the evening, and will be especially busy with the special names' list.

Liberal donations have been promised from several of the big firms of Victoria, including the B. C. Electric Railway Company, the B. C. Cement Co. and various other concerns.

The support from ministers in the churches of Victoria and surrounding municipalities is especially marked, and the association wishes to thank them.

Members of the boys' department of the Y.M.C.A. also are giving handsomely to the cause. One of these boys, a part time member of the office staff of the association, although he had not the money on hand, promised a donation of $35 to be paid over a period of several weeks. "It is this spirit," said officials in charge of the drive this morning, "which will make the campaign a success. We expect wonderful results from the citizens who realize our position, but unfortunately some of them do not."

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $2.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a 16-oz. bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make 16 ounces—more than you can buy ready-made for $2.50. It is pure, good and pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont. (Advt.)

IMPROVED FIELD FOR CATTLE TRADE

Motherwell Replies to Canadian Exporters' Letter of Shipments to Britain

Montreal, March 12.—After a number of conferences among Montreal cattle shippers, Donald Munro, a well-known local cattle exporter, addressed a letter to Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Federal Minister of Agriculture, suggesting that if the British Government should continue to put every obstacle in the way of the promising Canadian cattle trade, thereby causing heavy losses to exporters and almost killing business, the Canadian Government should seriously consider abrogation of the present British preference as the only argument likely to secure fair play for the Canadian cattle exporters. Mr. Munro pointed out that it had taken thirty years to have the embargo against the importation of Canadian cattle into Great Britain lifted, and when at last it was done there had been such amendments imposed as nearly nullified the benefits obtained. The latest difficulty raised was the prohibition by the British Government of export of Canadian cattle through Portland and Boston in favor of Halifax and St. John.

MORE FAVORABLE NOW

Mr. Motherwell replied to this letter "that there is no question that the British Government and the officials last year threw every obstacle in the way of our cattle entering their ports without actually restoring the embargo."

He added he was satisfied it was the officials rather than the Ministers who had been "throwing things in our way in the past," and he ended by saying he had been led to believe the new British Ministry was sympathetic to Canadian cattle entering the United Kingdom.

FINANCIAL AID FOR IMMIGRANTS

That is Key to Success in Filling Vacant Spaces, Says Sir H. Thornton

Montreal, March 12.—Immigration as the solution of a great many of Canada's national problems and the key to the future prosperity of the country was stressed by Sir Henry W. Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, in addressing more than 1,000 members of the Montreal Canadian Club at a luncheon.

Sir Henry did not consider this problem was so difficult as it appeared on the surface. "Immigration," he said, "can be divided broadly into two classes. The first class is composed of those who have sufficient capital to bring themselves to Canada and establish themselves here, and the second, those who would willingly come if they had the capital. We shall never bring our immigration to full tide until that point of view is understood and arrangements are made to finance those who are adaptable to conditions here and who would come if they could afford to. As soon as we are able to bring 300,000 settlers to Canada the rest will take care of themselves. Immigration will feed upon itself. But let me impress the importance of regarding immigration from a financial point of view. It can be made a success in no other way and the number we can bring in depends upon how many we can afford to finance."

Sir Henry believed that while Canada had many problems there were none incapable of solution if approached in the right manner and with proper thought. A broad understanding and the subjection of all sectional pride and difficulties to the broader principles of national life was necessary.

SERVICE AND COURTESY

Speaking of the success of the national system during the past year, the president paid a tribute to the splendid fidelity, efficiency and courtesy of all employees. The good will of the traveling and shipping public had to be secured by service and courtesy. "We do not ask your patronage," he said, "we do not ask your support, except that which the service justifies. We do not ask your transportation or your freight because it is the people's railway and because by supporting it you may reduce your taxes. If our service merits it, give us your support, but not otherwise. I ask you to help make the Canadian National Railways legitimately and in fairness a success. If it is a strong pull, a long pull and a pull altogther I have no doubt of the future."

RELIGIOUS CENSUS OF UNITED STATES

Total of Communicants in 1923 is Given as 45,457,366

New York, March 12—A census of religions in the United States in 1923, compiled by The Christian Herald and made public to-day, shows there were 45,457,366 communicants, representing a gain of 680,015 during the year, as compared with a gain of 797,565 in 1922. There were 206,843 ministers, a gain of 2,732, and 237,404 houses of worship, a gain of 2,884.

The largest Christian denomination was the Roman Catholic, with communicants estimated at 15,655,260, a gain of 133,616. Jewish congregations had 357,132 members. Thirty-four Buddhist Japanese temples had 5,639 worshippers.

Fourteen bodies of Baptists gained 192,520 communicants, raising their totals to an aggregate of 8,237,021, while fifteen bodies of Methodists had 8,622,836 communicants, a gain of 87,686.

There were 2,465,841 Lutherans, 22,825 more than in 1922; 2,462,557 Presbyterians, a gain of 61,290; 1,140,076 Episcopalians, a gain of 10,463; 1,621,203 communicants of the Disciples of Christ, a gain of 68,490, and 647,450 Eastern Catholics.

Among the larger of the Protestant denominations which showed gains were the United Brethren, Latter Day Saints, Evangelical, Synod and Congregational.

IRISH CENTENARIAN IS BELLIGERENT

London, March 12.—The dangerous age in the case of Owen Connolly, of Laskey, County Sligo, Ireland, seems to be an even hundred years. Connolly, hale and vigorous, walked nine miles to a courthouse recently to answer a charge of having "used threatening language and abused" one Patrick Brady.

He jumped over the fence and threatened me with a blackthorn," declared Brady.

The magistrate dismissed the case.

GRAIN INQUIRY HELD IN WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, March 12 (Canadian Press)—How "track" wheat prices are determined, the method of dealing with elevator agents who are "short," and the practice of dealing with cars consigned and marked "to be held awaiting instructions," were the features of the Royal Grain Commission's probe session here yesterday.

It developed that there is no exclusive source of information about establishing the daily track price. At least four organizations, more or less competitive, send to their members what they term a minimum price daily or every time the market changes below what they believe is safe for track prices, but there is no penalty imposed for failure to regard this information and no one apparently is bound to pay the amount mentioned or any other amount. The impression had been given the commission in rural districts that some farmers believed there was one general price determined at the Winnipeg Grain Exchange daily, which all buyers were bound to follow in track prices and did follow.

A DELORME RULING

Quebec, March 12.—Rev. Adelard Delorme, having been found fit by the Executive of the province to stand trial for murder, was also fit to take the necessary means to contract with an attorney for his defence even if the interdiction pronounced against him had not been repealed. Such is the summary of a judgment rendered yesterday by Mr. Justice Letellier in the Superior Court in dismissing a preliminary objection made by Messrs. Patenaude, Monette & Fillion, attorneys, to a claim of $24,337, which had been entered jointly against Delorme and his curator, Adelard Tetreault, by Alleyn Taschereau, K.C., who defended the priest at his last trial for murder.

MINISTRY'S PLANS FOR BRITISH AIR DEFENCE UPHELD

London, March 12—William Leach, Under-secretary of the Air Ministry, encountered considerable heckling, when introducing the Air estimates in the House of Commons yesterday. The 1924-25 estimates amount to £19,392,000 gross, and £14,511,000 net.

The Under-secretary began by setting at rest misgivings as to why the Labor Government wanted more money for military aviation by explaining that the increase asked for did not mean an increase of armaments, but a decrease on the aggegate in the three services. He declared the Labor party had never urged disarmament for Great Britain irrespective of what other countries might do, because that was not a practical proposition.

By March, 1925, eighteen squadrons would be ready for home defence out of fifty-two proposed within the next five years, he said. The Government had decided not to interfere with the previous Government's air programme, but if any international move for a reduction of armaments came along, it would be free to accept it:

Austen Chamberlain, Conservative, was not satisfied that British shores were safe from air attack. He enlarged upon the suddenness of an air war and the danger of being compelled to build aircraft too heavily in times of emergency.

Viscount Curzon, Conservative, also urged the House not to rest content with Mr. Leach's declaration. The Conservative motion, however, calling for "adequate protection against attacks by the strongest air force within striking distance of British shores," was defeated 263 to 195.

HON. R. J. MANION GAVE COMMONS HIS VIEWS ON TARIFF

Ottawa, March 12—Hon. R. J. Manion, Conservative member for Fort William, addressing the Commons yesterday afternoon advocated a reaffirmation of the national policy, a policy, which he thought would retain the home market for the home producer, would protect Canada from cheap foreign labor and would encourage home industries.

Referring to the reduction in the tariff on agricultural implements which has been forecast, Dr. Manion said the total importation of agricultural implements was $4,500,000, the duty collected $680,000, and the farm population 4,000,000. The per capita tax on the farmers therefore was 17c. If that sop would catch the prairie vote it was a pretty cheap price, he said.

$14.50 A HEAD

The total customs taxation of the country amounted to only $14.50 a head, he said, and if that was given to every prairie farm it would not make farming pay. He admitted that prairie conditions were bad, but claimed the tiriff was not the cause. The cause rather was world conditions and transportation. He was ready to take any reasonable measures to help the West but he was not ready to ruin the East. The United States had built up a tariff wall against Canadian farm products, he said, but the Progressives, instead of resenting this slap in the face had merely turned the other cheek.

Dr. Manion said that at least a dozen commissions of inquiry had been appointed since the present Government took office. He was informed that one of these alone, the grain commission, was costing the country $800 a day.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

UNLESS the device of changing clock-time to save daylight during the summer months is adopted generally throughout the country Victoria should leave it alone. While there may be a certain satisfaction in being singular in some ways, singularity in this particular respect causes no end of confusion. Last year with Victoria operating on so-called daylight saving time and all the neighboring municipalities, cities, trains, steamships and ferries using standard time, there was no little loss and inconvenience from a business point of view here; and this community needs every bit of business it can find. Every evening tradesmen in this city lost customers from up-Island points who found the stores closed on their arrival on the train and motor busses.

There also should be considered the inconvenience to visitors whom we are spending many thousands of dollars a year to bring here.

There is another ground of complaint which, for the sake of their peace of mind we trust our aldermen will not take too lightly, and this is urged by the mothers of young children whom it is hard to accustom to the change. Just how widespread this objection is we have no means of knowing, but perhaps the mothers pro and con will enlighten the Council and assist it in its decision on the subject by communicating with it at once. We do not want to make trouble for our mayor and aldermen, who are a hard working and zealous aggregation of civic governors, but the mothers by this means may be able to do them a good turn.

Changing the clock to save daylight promises to furnish the historian, say five hundred years hence, with rare material for a pungent jibe or two at our expense. A very eccentric people, he will say, dwelt on this globe in the early nineteen hundreds, a people who to enjoy an extra hour of daylight every day, put the hands of their clocks an hour forward instead of beginning the day an hour earlier without tinkering with their clocks. These people, he may add, actually thought the process of time was determined by their clocks instead of by the sun; in other words, that their clocks controlled the progress of the sun through the infinitude of space. A town would pass a by-law requiring clocks to be put forward an hour during certain months and, lo, the sun would be expected to conform to those speed regulations while it was passing over that particular community. A strange and mysterious people, those ancients.

CITY TAXES

UP to March 7 more than 450 taxpayers paid over $100,000 on account of their current year's taxes. There is a growing appreciation of the merit of the instalment plan in the payment of taxes, and we may expect to see the practice develop on a large scale. In any case it is easier to pay taxes by the month, when the taxpayer gets into the habit of doing so, than to pay them in the lump sum in all its terrifying proportions. But it is easier still when the taxpayer gets six per cent. for doing it. We know of no other business relation so favorable to the person who has to pay. We are allowed to pay our federal income taxes in four instalments, but we do not get six per cent. for doing it. On the contrary, we are supposed to consider ourselves fortunate in not having to pay the whole amount outright. In the case of the city taxes, however, we not only save the interest which the city has to pay the bank on the money it has to borrow every Spring for its current expenditure, but we are bonussed to the extent of six per cent. if we use the instalment plan.

THE TEN-MINUTE SPEECH

WITH the Senate threatening to reform the House of Commons and take steps to reduce the flow of speech-making from that body, there are indications in Canada that the short speech idea is gaining ground.

The radio broadcasting statons have now joined the movement. In view of the outbreak of oratory through the ether which will soon be upon the people of the United States with the opening of the election campaign, radio stations have got together and agreed on a policy of regulation. They have decided that a candidate should be able to say all that he has that is worth while in ten minutes.

The ten-minute speech idea is a good one. But what is going to become of the old-fashioned spellbinder who takes that length of time to let his audience know he is glad to be present?

BRITAIN'S RENAISSANCE

FROM a perspective of three months, writers and other students of political affairs are better able to form a more accurate, a more permanent estimate of the fundamental reasons for the change in the attitude of the British people which resulted in them voting so that a new and untested party, a radical party and what some feared might be a dangerous party, has been entrusted with the conduct of their national affairs.

First, on the part of practically all shades of opinion it is admitted that labor has come to stay in British politics, and that for some time, at least, it will remain a determining, if not a dominating, factor in British public life.

The fact that now stands out above all others as responsible for placing Labor in this position is the existence throughout the country of what has been described as an inarticulate idealism which has turned for expression to Mr. Ramsay MacDonald and some of those gathered around him. This idealism has never been stronger, especially among the younger generation, than it is to-day. It has grown as a reaction to the disappointment with the failure of the peace to conserve and develop the moral triumphs of the war. A land fit for heroes was glibly promised while the battles raged in France but the heroes returned to find unemployment and their burdens more onerous than before.

Mr. Wickham Steed, who was editor of The London Times during the latter part of the Northcliffe ownership, sets this down as the true cause of the decline in the fortunes of Mr. Lloyd George and the Liberal party. Mr. Baldwin in his speech on the eve of the opening of Parliament, when he was to yield the Premiership, made the significant statement that youth, much of it, had escaped and that it must be recovered if the Tory party was to come back to power. This desertion of youth means that hundreds of thousands who fought in the war have cut the old party moorings out of weariness, perhaps with a touch of anger, for the things that happened between 1914 and 1918 and for the things that did not happen between 1918 and 1923.

Mr. Frank Simonds, who gained fame on this continent for his war articles, emphasizes this when he writes from London that labor would not be in power today on Labor principles, policies and leaders, even though it is the best organized political unit in the country. He says it is in power because it offered the country an alternative to what had been, and that its power is rigidly limited until it demonstrates that affirmatively it can do much or anything.

Mr. Simonds says there is a stirring in Britain, a profound desire for change, spontaneous, nation-wide, a force revealing itself not to destroy the England that was, but to make a new England; a feeling among the masses that they have a higher conception, a finer idea for their country than those who have led them have been able to express in action.

"From the bottom rather than from the top there is evidence of a new spirit, a moving spirit, which more than once before has brought youth to this old land, another period of greatness, when decay and ruin were forecast," Mr. Simonds says. "Labor may or may not express this British renaissance, which is, I believe, the outstanding fact in England today; but Labor has been invited to do it within the rigid limits of British character, because neither of the older parties has felt the breath of this new-old England. But along with the new spirit goes the great, solid commonsense of the people, which has not been shaken."

The war decade brought revolution to some countries, dictatorships to others, but to Britain it has brought a rebirth which is now seeking to find expression for itself through the Labor Government it has placed in power.

In Vancouver, the World has now gained its place in the Sun.

The newspapers are blamed for many things when other reasons are not handy. The latest comes from dry areas in the East where it is complained that liquor prices are affected mostly by newspaper stories. If there is much publicity given to deaths from poisonous bottled goods the prices go down. If there is news forecasting raiding by dry squads, prices soar.

It is difficult for an outsider properly to understand people and their attitude unless he can get their point of view. Sir Auckland Geddes, during the time he was ambassador at Washington, was able to get the American point of view on at least the prohibition question. "I don't think the people of England recognize amid the mass of stories of violation of the prohibition laws how strong the feeling of the best minds of America is on the subject of prohibition," he tells his countrymen. "Given the American problem, given the American climate, I think, if I were an American, I would be a prohibitionist."

On Being Categorical

Goethe Took Exception to a Number of Common Phrases But This Writer Seeks Safety in an Occasional Perhaps

From the Manchester Guardian

THE London Observer gives a list of words and phrases, just published in a German literary paper, to which Goethe took exception. Goethe, who rode as high a horse as anybody over a good many matters, apparently included among his aversions a dislike of all phrases which express an element of doubt and seek to disarm and conciliate the reader or hearer in advance.

His list of them includes expressions like "As far as I am aware," "If I am rightly informed," and even "I believe;" in fact, he seems to have been so suspicious of anything that fell short of positiveness that the words "somewhat," "nearly," "approximately" and "scarcely" find a place in the list.

This suggests a destructive black list for most speakers and writers. "I wish I were as cocksure of one thing as Macaulay is of everything,' observed an acquaintance of that dogmatic historian, and the world would have to be peopled by Macaulays in order to live up to what seems to have been Goethe's ideal. Dr. Johnson would have done it, perhaps; indeed, it reminds one of his complaint against one of his women friends; "I had some hopes of her at first, but when I talked to her tightly and closely I could make nothing of her; she was wiggle-waggle, and I could never persuade her to be categorical."

To a greater or less degree that reluctance to be categorical runs through all mankind, and even if Goethe had succeeded in banishing the phrases which express it he would not have got rid of the thing itself. Moreover, the wiggle-wagglers, worms though they be in the eyes of the mighty riders of the high horse, are not quite bereft of consolation. It is possible to be categorical without being right; and even rectitude when too bluntly clothed, may fail to get itself accepted. If you wish to persuade others, there is, pragmatically speaking, a good deal to be said for an occasional "perhaps."

The Caroline Affair

Feeling Ran High and Trouble With United States Over Firing of William Lyon Mackenzie's Supply Boat In American Niagara Territory Was Averted Only By a Considerate Jury

This Day in Canada's Past—March 12, 1841

AT the end of December, 1837, Captain Drew of the Royal Navy, acting as a militia officer under Colonel Allan MacNab, made a midnight raid across the Niagara River from Chippewa and cut loose and set fire to the river steamer Caroline, which was acting as supply boat to William Lyon Mackenzie and his army of rebels and United States invaders on Navy Island. The Caroline was owned in Buffalo and was moored to the wharf at Fort Schlosser, on the United States side of the Niagara River when seized. This act was precipitate and unauthorized by the Administration of Upper Canada or the Government of Great Britain. Strictly speaking, under the body of usage called international law, there is small doubt that the expedition was quite justifiable. Canadian refugees had been allowed to violate the neutrality and right of asylum of the United States and to invade Canada from a base in Buffalo. A large number of United States citizens had joined them in this act of war and had not been interfered with by the United States Government though that Government had taken some steps, quite ineffectual in the event, to guard against an act of war by its citizens on the territory of a friendly power. Moreover, the arms, ammunition and supplies were all obtained in the United States and conveyed to Canadian territory in this American owned boat.

The incident, however, roused furious resentment throughout the republic. The press screeched "Outrage!" and the people, knowing nothing caring nothing of international law, and only too ready to be excited against Great Britain, demanded satisfaction. The localized and scattered sympathy for the Canadian rebels was fanned into a general flame. The danger to Canada became very great, the more so as the United States and Great Britain were almost on the verge of war over the boundary between Maine and New Brunswick. The President, Mr. Van Buren, from the South, whose cotton trade with England was its mainstay, was genuinely anxious to preserve peace. He promised Congress that reparation would be exacted, and, as carefully as possible, fulfilled his promise. The negotiations dragged on for nearly three years as one of the many matters of contention between the two nations, and was finally settled with a certain amount of indemnity from Great Britain.

MEANWHILE the Administration and the Parliament of Upper Canada were jubilant and defiant. The Legislative Assembly passed an address of thanks to all men engaged in the affair and with ceremony presented swords of honor to Colonel MacNab and Captain Drew. The British Government, too, assumed full responsibility for the raid and the King knighted Colonel MacNab.

While the excitement was at its height a Canadian militiaman, Alexander McLeod, was caught on the United States side of the boundary and imprisoned as having been the agent of or the accessory to the murder of Amos Durfee, one of the six men killed in the scuffle on the deck of the Caroline, and whose body was left lying on the bank at Fort Schlosser. Feeling concerning McLeod ran high on both sides of the border, and on March 12, 1841, the British Government demanded his unconditional release. The Government of the United States refused pointblank. War was very close, and Canadians began to dread a recurrence of the events of 1812.

McLeod was committed for trial at Utica, New York state, in October, 1941. The sitting of the court lasted eight days and the legal battle was freighted with more than ordinary significance, for it was not only McLeod's fate that was being decided; it was the question of peace or war. The pile of evidence loomed dark against the prisoner, but the jury brought in a verdict of "Not guilty." There can be little doubt that by this verdict war was narrowly averted.

SPRING MORNING

By Ruth Harwood

I walk in the fragrant morning,
And dew that jewels the grass
Gives me a glistening welcome
To thrill me as I pass.

I go to the wooded pathways
Where fresh wild flowers bloom,
Filling the verdant places
With delicate perfume.

I go to the blossomed acres
Where trees lift to the sky
Burdens of fragile beauty
That must so quickly die.

The Spring will pass too swiftly
And youth will not last long,
And all I can keep of their glory
Will be my silver song.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre At Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hear, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. (Advt.)

On April 1 members of the British flying service and ex-members of the Royal Flying Corps and Royal Air Force resident in this Province will gather at a re-union dinner in Vancouver to commemorate the establishment by royal warrant of the first British flying unit as a separate arm of the service.

This year will be the twelfth anniversary of the creation of a flying wing of the British forces.

Invitations to the event are now in the mails from D. R. Maclaren, chairman of the re-union dinner committee. Those wishing to attend are asked to get in touch with Secretary Leonard Miller, 1411 Dominion Building, Vancouver. The committee at work on the event ask that uniform be worn. Through the courtesy of H. C. Macauley, the banquet will be staged at the Shaughnessy Golf Club on April 1.

FEW PROSPECTORS NOW IN PROVINCE

Rugged Miner Disappearing, Says Dr. Dolmage in Address

Since the beginning of the present century there has been a steady decline in the numbers of prospectors working the mining fields of British Columbia, an investigation of the records for the issuance of miners' licenses has showed This fact, Dr. V. Dolmage, head of the Dominion Geographical Survey in British Columbia, stated last night at a meeting of the Vancouver Island Prospectors' Association. Not only has the issuance of licenses dropped perceptibly, but so has the number of locations for mines.

It was not many years ago, the speaker pointed out, that investors would never take a chance with their money in mines which had not been partially worked, and which showed a paying margin. There was too much uncertainty, too many mines which proved but "wild cat" ventures, so that the capitalists had been loath to invest where certain returns were not assured. But things have changed to-day, he asserted.

He pointed out that consumption of metals was just behind production, and that, as there was just one crop of mineral wealth in the world, the ability to supply the ever increasing demand depended upon the location and development of new sources of supply.

Even though there was some risk connected with the minihg of properties undeveloped at the beginning, investors were taking courage and endeavoring to remedy the situation. It was essential that this be done, that the world might have a sufficient supply of metals to meet the general demand, he said.

The speaker suggested that, as an aid to the prospector, the Government appoint a competent geologist, to be in the pay of these authorities, and whose payment might be included in the work of assessment. This would serve two purposes, he said, as it would aid the prospector and at the same time protect the investor.

IMPROVEMENT TAX CONSIDERED BY OAK BAY COUNCIL

Ratepayers Will be Informed of Council's Decision Before Action Taken

The effect of an improvement tax on Oak Bay property was considered by the Oak Bay Council in session yesterday afternoon as committee of the whole. A mill rate of over 50 mills would have to be struck if land were to carry the whole burden this year, it was stated.

A tax on one-quarter of the improvement valuations would bring the land rate down to 36.4 mills, it was reported, and still raise sufficient money from the two sources to meet the needs of the municipality. The 36.4 mills would be an increase of some 6 mills from 1923, with the improvement tax in addition.

The Council's estimates were considerably lower this year than last, but the School Board estimates showed an increase. The Council considered the question from all angles, urged by the warning of a delegation that had previously waited upon it to advise a tax on improvements.

Though elected on a straight single tax ticket, the 1924 Council is faced with a dilemma that has led to several conversions to the advisability of taxing improvements at this stage. The matter was finally tabled for further discussion. If the Council decides that improvements will be taxed the position will be put before a mass meeting of ratepayers, Councillors explained.

Single Victorian Heard Montreal

For some unaccountable reason it is almost impossible and very unusual for radio fans of Victoria ever to hear Toronto, Montreal or other Eastern Canadian cities, although many have heard Chicago, Pittsburgh and other points of the middle states, and a few have heard New York and broadcasting stations as far awa las Florida. As far as is known there is only one person in Victoria at the present time who has heard a concert broadcast from Montreal. William Muir, whose fame as a swimmer and diver spread all over Canada, but who was unfortunate enough to suffer such injuries that have kept him from active participation in athletics ever since, has turned his attention to radio, and some months ago heard a concert broadcast from Montreal.

Ever since he first heard the far-away music Mr. Muir has endeavored at various time to pick up Montreal again but has never been successful.

Mr. Muir has a particularly powerful radio set and plans an addition to this shortly, when he has hopes of picking up the long-lost station.

DECLARES PROMISES IN IRELAND BROKEN

General Tobin, Leader of Army Mutiny, Says Irish Officers Were Displaced

Dublin, March 12—General Tobin, a leader of the mutinous faction in the Irish Free State army, told newspapermen here last night that the trouble in the army was not of recent date, nor was it connected with the recent forced demobilization of numerous officers. Shortly after the death of Michael Collins the national situation was allowed to drift, he said. Former British officers were placed in high positions, while those who had made the Free State Government possible were forced out or put in minor positions. Guarantees were repeatedly promised but the promises were always broken, General Tobin declared.

To examine lands in the Stuart Lake district of Northern British Columbia in preparation for the establishment of a colony of Dutch farmers there, representatives of a Dutch emigration organization probably will come to British Columbia shortly. Paterson, of Victoria, died at 8 o'clock Monday night at the home of his son on Inverholme Ranch, Ladner. He was a native of Banffshire, Scotland, came to Canada when eight years old, lived in Middlesex County, Ont., for twenty-five years, then Bruce County, where he engaged in farming and in raising shorthorn cattle, and retired from business life some fifteen years ago, coming to British Columbia. ## Baldwin, M.P., Suggests Administrative Change in Maritime Area

Ottawa, March 12.—W. J. Baldwin, Liberal member for Stanstead, Que., speaking in the debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne in the Commons yesterday afternoon, emphasized the evidences of prosperity which he found in Canada.

He recommended to the Maritime Provinces that they link up as one legislative whole.

He did not find the exodus to the United States as alarming as some persons did. They were mostly city people and many of them would come back.

He strongly advocated the St. Lawrence Deep Waterways scheme and the damming of the Strait of Belle Isle, to make Montreal a twelve-month port.

DICKIE SPOKE

C. H. Dickie, Conservative member for Nanaimo, made a strong appeal for an embargo on exportation of raw forest products. He declared the forest wealth of Canada was being rapidly depleted and that reforestation was, in some cases, impracticable, as in the case of the Douglas fir. Eighty-five per cent of the people of British Columbia, he said, would vote for an embargo on exports if given the opportunity.

Mr. Dickie spoke of the increase in the exodus from Canada to the United States in recent years. There was only one remedy for this, he said, and that was tariff stability. He admitted that tariff protection might injure some parts of the country, as, for example, the Maritime Provinces and the prairies; but anything they suffered in that connection, he believed, would be more than made up to them in other ways.

SAYWARD TO GET SETTLERS FROM SASKATCHEWAN

Party of Twenty Will Arrive in Victoria Thursday

After negotiations with the Provincial Land Settlement Board the Lands Department and the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, a party of Saskatchewan settlers from a large colony leaving that province will arrive in Victoria to take up land on the Island next Thursday.

Two representatives of a large colony at Saskatchewan came to Victoria several weeks ago to survey farming areas on the Island and were supplied with a report on the Sayward district. They were also given information by the Provincial Government departments on Powell River which was believed to be more suitable for some of the prospective settlers, as some of them will have to work for wages until their farms are made productive. The Government was able to offer certain inducements in the interior of the Province, but land on the Island also was offered.

The Publicity Bureau's effort to turn the settlers to Sayward has met with a certain measure of success. Half of the big settlement has already moved to California, and every effort was made to retain others leaving Saskatchewan for Vancouver Island. Twenty left Saskatchewan on a special car over the Canadian National Railway to-day bringing with them household goods and a large quantity of farming equipment which will be of use in British Columbia. Other supplies to start operations will be secured on their arrival. It is expected that the twenty will be the advance guard of many more of the Calder settlers who will go to Sayward Valley.

CORRECTION

To the Editor:—In checking over my letter appearing in your issue of February 28, I notice that I have used the term "Eggs Mark Act." This does not refer to the Provincial Eggs Mark Act, but has reference to the regulations respecting the grading and marking of eggs, Dominion Act, as amended 1923. ### LANGFORD FOOTPATH

To the Editor:—In Saturday's Colonist Alice M. Brown makes two statements re Langford sidewalk both of which are wrong.

In the first place Mr. Pooley did not get it put in. He was never interviewed with regard to it, and also Mr. Pooley has done nothing for Langford except raise the taxes in the last five years. The Langford School Board got the footpath put in, through going to the Department of Public Works, and Mr. Napier was the official who put it through.

Mr. Smedley is not on the Liberal executive. Why not make sure of statements before putting them in the press?

NOT CLOSED

To the Editor,—We wish to correct a very wrong impression that might arise from an article in the press with reference to the Sooke Harbor Hotel. Major Nicholson has given up his tenancy and the owner has placed a manager of his own in charge. The hotel is open to the public and will stay open to the public, and will be fully renovated for the tourist trade this season. The owner informs us that, while the hotel is for sale, unless a really good purchaser can be found he will keep his manager on, as he is convinced that this splendid resort will receive capacity patronage.

The owner never had any intention of closing the hotel, but rather to allow the general public a most up-to-date hostel at this point. The new manager, Mr. Ingram, is giving special attention to the guests now at the hotel and will extend an efficient and courteous service to the traveling public.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

To the Editor:—It is apparent that we are now about to witness the annual wobble of our representatives in the Municipal Council regarding daylight saving:

It seems to me that the aldermen forget, after their election, that they are sent to the Council in a representative capacity, and must sink their individual views in deference to the expressed wish of the electors. Now, sir, a vote was taken in this city some years ago on this subject, and a considerable number of electors took the trouble to let the representatives whom they elected know that they were in favor of daylight saving. Are these views to be ignored? I live in the north end of the city where most of the toilers reside, and I have heard many favorable comments on the boon of daylight saving. It is particularly desired in the months of April and September when the evenings are short and garden work crowds on one. Those building their own houses also appreciate the extra hour of daylight, indeed it was Ex-Alderman Patrick's action in bringing it to an early close two years ago that cost him his seat at the Council.

Several aldermen imagine daylight saving is desired only by the pleasure seekers. This is not so. It is more urgently desired by those who wish to cultivate garden in order to provide for the family and incidentally, it helps to keep down the necessity for importing foreign garden produce and the employment of the Chinese truck gardener, as well as keeping the savings out of the cinema shows. The only people I have heard rail against daylight caving are those who have too much leisure. Working men's wives, who take a pride in personally attending to their families, do not object to daylight saving. They have no trouble in getting their children to bed at the proper time.

No doubt we will hear the dairyman's complaint about not being able to get the fresh milk in time for breakfast, but that wheeze is played out. The public have long ago been disillusioned on the fresh milk for breakfast theory. If we get it two days old we are lucky.

Now come away aldermen, and play the game.

YOURS FOR MORE DAYLIGHT.

ISLAND'S MARINE BEAUTY PRAISED

Opportunity of Studying Flora and Fauna of Ocean Unusually Good

The sea life of Vancouver Island is to be found in equal variety in very few parts of the world, says Dr. C. McLean Fraser, of the Biological Station, Nanaimo. Even Catalina Island in all its fame, elegance and marine beauty cannot excel Vancouver Island, he believes, and the opportunity to study the marine fauna and flora in this part of the world is even better than in most other places, Californian waters included.

Dr. Fraser this week gave the Natural History Society of this city a great deal of interesting information regarding sea life about the island.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Tail Hole

Copyright, 1924, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

(By Howard R. Garis)

Once upon a time, as Uncle Wiggily was sitting in his hollow stump bungalow, eating his breakfast of maple sugar on carrot pancakes, some jolly voices called:

"Come on out, Uncle Wiggily! Come with us and have some fun! It's Saturday and there is no school!"

"Who is it, Nurse Jane?" asked the bunny rabbit gentleman, as he took the last mouthful of pancake.

"Some of the animal boys," replied the muskrat lady housekeeper looking from the window. "I see Sammie Littletail, Johnnie and Billie Bushytail, the squirrels; Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow, the puppy dogs, and Buddy, the guinea pig boy."

"What do they want?" inquired Mr. Longears.

"They seem to want you to come out and play with them," went on Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "But of course you can't go. Wiggy! You are too old to play with the boys."

"Oh, yes, I suppose so," agreed the rabbit gentleman. But I think if Nurse Jane hadn't been there, that he would have gone out to have some fun.

"Come along, Uncle Wiggily," invited Billie Bushytail. "We're going to play at the tail hole."

"Sorry, but I can't come out now—I—I am very busy," said Uncle Wiggily.

He was busy—eating his breakfast. Still, and with all that—if Nurse Jane hadn't been watching him—but why speak of that?

"Well, we'll run along and play at the tail hole," chattered Billie, who was out on the porch. "If you get time, Uncle Wiggily, come and see us," he invited through the door which Nurse Jane had opened a little way.

"I'll see about it," was all that Uncle Wiggily would promise.

It was a little while after this that the rabbit gentleman, all dressed up in his pink, twinkling nose and everything, was hopping through the woods, wondering what sort of adventure he would have.

All of a sudden he met Buddy, the guinea pig boy, who was running along over the little snow and dried leaves as fast as he could scamper.

"What's the matter, Buddy?" asked the bunny. "You seem to be in a hurry."

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily! Oh, Uncle Wiggily!" was all that Buddy could say.

"Why, whatever is the matter?" asked the bunny, for he could see that the little guinea pig was much excited.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily!" panted Buddy his breath coming and going very fast. "Johnnie Bushytail—he's caught in the hole! Oh! Oh!"

"What hole?" asked Mr. Longears.

"The tail hole," was the answer.

"What in the world is this tail hole I have heard so much about?"

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily!" panted Buddy.

asked the rabbit gentleman. "Where is it? What about it?"

"Come on and I'll show you!" offered Buddy. "Oh, poor Johnnie is caught in the tail hole!"

They scampered over the fields and through the woods until they came to a little clump of trees. Here were gathered the animal boys who, earlier in the day, had invited Uncle Wiggily to come and play with them.

"I found him! I brought him back with me!" called Buddy, who, it seemed, had gone to look for Uncle Wiggily. "He'll get Johnnie out of the tail hole!" said the guinea pig boy.

"What in the world is a tail hole?" cried Mr. Longears. Then he saw Johnnie sitting down on a big, round log that was lying on the ground. "You seem to be all right, Johnnie," went on the bunny uncle. "What's the matter?"

"My tail is caught in a hole and I can't pull it out," the squirrel boy said. "We were playing a game in the tail hole. This is how it was. Buddy, the other day, saw this log with a round hole in it like a barrel hole. He thought it would be fun to see who could stick his tail farthest into the hole and pull it out again."

"Yes," chimed in Buddy, "that's what I thought. But as I haven't any tail—being a guinea pig—I couldn't stick my tail in the hole. So I got the animal boys, who have tails, to come here and stick their in."

"Everything went all right until I stuck my tail in," chattered Johnnie. "Sammie put his tail in and pulled it out again. So did Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow. But when I put my tail in I couldn't pull it out! Oh, Uncle Wiggily, do you think there's a bear inside the log who has hold of my tail?"

"Nonsense!" laughed the bunny. "There isn't any bear at all. I'll look and see what it is." Uncle Wiggily gnawed a hole in the side of the log so he could look within. Then he saw that there was some sticky gum from the pine tree in the hole, and it was this gum, made soft by the warm tails of the animal boys, that had melted and was now holding Johnnie's tail fast.

"Get me some warm water from Mrs. Wibblewobble's house, over the way," directed Uncle Wiggily, "and I'll soon thaw Johnnie's tail loose."

The warm water melted the sticky gum, and Johnnie could pull out his tail. And after that the boy animals didn't play at the tail hole.

But if the automobile tire doesn't blow air in the face of the clock and make the hands twist like a merry go 'round, I'll tell you about Uncle Wiggily and Billie's horns.

EMANCIPATION IS COMING SLOWLY TO WOMEN OF INDIA

Prof. Masih Describes Political Progress and Family Life

In an inspiring and lucid address before the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon Professor Yohan Masih, of the Presbyterian Theological Seminary at Indore, India, dealt at length with the political situation in India.

GROUP FAMILY SYSTEM

The speaker described the group family system in vogue showing the important part played in family life by the older women of that group, in which the mother-in-law was virtually the head of affairs.

Because of this ancient system, the awakening of India in the political sense could never be fully successful until its women were emancipated. That day was still far off for at present only one-and-a-half per cent. of its women were educated.

The Mohammedan regime in India and the disregard of the Mohammedan rules for the sanctity of marriage had driven the women of India to take refuge behind the purdah, and had prevented girls attending the public schools. But the war, which had broken down the last fences of prejudice against the granting of the franchise in other parts of the Empire had given the women of India a new opportunity.

For the first time many women had taken their places on platform and roster to fight for their rights. Today the women were making a great agitation for the education of their girls. One of the biggest steps in their emancipation was made at the conference of women in 1922, when they passed a resolution against giving their daughters in marriage to a Mohammedan who believed in polygamy.

PROHIBITION

At a more recent conference the women declared themselves in favor of raising the minimum age of marriage for girls to sixteen years, and also calling for total prohibition. On the subject of prohibition, Professor Masih pointed out that the Begum of Bhopal, an emancipated woman ruler, was the first in India to inaugurate prohibition laws in her state. Her example had been followed by another woman ruler, and several native princes were now following suit.

Professor Masih laid emphasis upon the deep-rooted religious tendencies of India, and declared that no movement of emancipation in India, either among the men or women, would succeed unless its principles were based upon religion.

Mrs. H. H. Smith moved and Mrs. J. H. Fletcher seconded the vote of thanks to the speaker. Two delightful solos contributed by Arthur Gore added much to the pleasure of the programme. Mrs. H. P. Hodges presided.

A similar affair is being put on by every lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose throughout the civilized world simultaneously.

Tickets are now on sale, and as the number is limited those intending to participate are advised to purchase at once to avoid disappointment.

YOUR HOME AND YOU

By HELEN KENDALL

Tucking in

Recently I took dinner with some young married friends of mine, who have a couple of small boys. They were bright little fellows and I enjoyed the mimmensely, with their eager, quaint questions and comments. When nine o'clock came they were ordered to bed by their father, and they went off pleasantly enough, although with considerable reluctance. About ten minutes later mother, during a pause in the conversation, slipped quietly out of the room and was gone a very short time. When she returned, she smiled at me and answered the inquiry in my eyes.

"Yes—tucking in," she admitted flushing a little. "Ted here thinks they are getting a bit large for it, but if you could see Teddy's funny little black eyes roll up with satisfaction, you'd think it was all right."

As she spoke, I was reminded of a passage in Kathleen Norris's beautiful story "Mother." The older of two sisters is having her first real love affair and the mother goes to her bedside for a confidential chat after the younger sister, on the other side of the bed, is asleep. As they murmur together in low tones, the little sister half wakes and says drowsily:

"Is that you, mother? Come and say your prayers on me to-night; you said them on sister last night."

The picture of the kneeling mother is very clear.

A boy's highest ideal—yes, and a man's as well—is his mother. To see his mother's face above him the last thing every night before a boy goes to sleep, is to have deeply imprinted upon his mind a picture that he will retain throughout his life and perhaps in many crises. Many mothers begin to let their boys drift away from them when the awkward, gruffish age comes along, but I think most boys are secretly glad when the door knob turns and mother comes to tuck them in.

PAVILION ISSUE RAISES ROW

Protest was lodged by several aldermen yesterday afternoon against refusal to hear the case for a pavilion at Elk Lake near the East Road.

Some months ago the Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee received a deputation of two who desired a privilege but no action was taken.

While the statement was made by Alderman Todd that the matter was closed, Alderman Andros said they must be courteous, and hear the application. Otherwise it was urged that the C.P.R. chalet project would be quoted as the only one having a chance with the committee.

"I remember a time when this Council gave something to the C.P.R., and you didn't say a word," retorted Alderman Todd.

Alderman Andros challenged the lack of courtesy of Alderman Todd in going ahead with the negotiations for a game farm at Elk Lake with M. B. Jackson, K.C., M.P.P., chairman of the Game Conservation Board, without reference to him, at a time when the Council had instructed the two aldermen to act.

Alderman Andros said if a committee was named to act it should act, and not one member of it.

The aldermen will go to Elk Lake in a body next Tuesday afternoon.

GAME FARM IS ENDORSED FOR LAKE WATERSHED

Suitable Property is Reported Upon by Chairman of Board

Hatchery Project at Elk Lake Also Proposed

Particularly suitable is a portion of the Elk Lake watershed for the establishment of a game conservation farm, the city council in committee yesterday afternoon, learned from W. B. Jackson, K.C., M.P.P., chairman of the Board.

A committee was named, composed of Alderman Todd, City Solicitor Pringle, City Engineer Preston, and Mr. Jackson, who are to conduct the negotiations and present an agreement.

Alderman Todd, who presided, stated that a meeting had been held on the ground and those present had reached the opinion unanimously to recommend lease of a portion of land for game farm business. Power was given, he said, under the last private act of the city, to go ahead, and he believed a lease could be readily arranged.

PROPOSED PLAN

The best location was a piece of land, forty-five acres on the East Road, which it was proposed to lease on a nominal rental, he stated. It was suggested to make provision for future development, that a proviso should be incorporated to terminate the lease in case of necessity.

Some clearing and some buildings would be necessary, the cost of which Alderman Todd indicated should be paid by the Provincial body. He believed the plan could be developed into another attraction of the district without interfering with the general development plan of the property.

Mr. Jackson said the Game Conservation Board carried on two game farms at Cedar Hill and Colquitz, and it was desirable to consolidate the game farms in one. While excellent for the board, it would also be an attraction to the people of Victoria. He believed a model game farm could be established. At present they were concentrating on pheasants, and cross-bred mallard ducks, but eventually the blue grouse, and other indigenous birds would be replaced by Hungarian partridges, in which they intended to specialize. The board would convert the land from the present wild condition into a fine park. Beginning with an acreage of ten acres, it was proposed to extend over the whole area. Elk Lake was already a bird sanctuary by proclamation.

He drew a picture of the future of Elk Lake as a bird sanctuary, sheltering thousands of migratory and other birds, an attraction of the finest character. The board would like a lease of not less than five years, rent free, and on its part the government would undertake to put the premises in good condition, and keep them so, he said.

In answer to Alderman Marchant Mr. Jackson said the board only contemplated to rear game birds, not fur animals.

LAKE MERRITT

Alderman Todd alluded to the successful game farm at Lake Merritt, Oakland, California, in a district surrounded by houses, and only a quarter of the area of Elk and Beaver lakes.

At this stage a letter was read from the Oakland Chamber of Commerce to the Publicity Commissioner of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, giving some data on the subject of Lake Merritt.

Alderman Sargent desired a guarantee from the government of maintenance, and then believed the meeting could endorse the scheme.

SUGGESTED HATCHERY

An endorsement of the project was given by Alderman Sangster. He said two representatives of the Fisheries Department had been to the Lake, and were impressed with the opportunity of establishing a hatchery for young fish to stock the waterways of Vancouver Island. Further steps were being taken to supply levels of the lake to the officials of the Fisheries Department, he remarked.

In answer to Mayor Hayward, it was stated that the ducks would not foul the waters of the lake, in case some further use was made of the watershed.

City Solicitor Pringle pointed out that the city must be careful in connection with its preserving rights as a watershed.

PROTECTION FROM TAXATION

Alderman Andros said they must remember that any immunity granted from taxes on the ground of a watershed must eventually disappear, if the property was utilized for other purposes—for golf links, bathing, a chalet, a conservation farm, and other matters nothing to do with a watershed.

Provision had been made to deal with such questions in the city's act, Alderman Woodward indicated.

Points raised by Alderman Andros should be taken care of in the agreement, Alderman Sargent asserted.

The chairman saw no reason to fear trouble on the legal status of the property.

Alderman Ker said he was surprised to learn the legal argument advanced by Alderman Andros. He was thoroughly in favor of the project, however.

The motion was then adopted, to have an agreement drawn up for presentation to the general committee again.

COLQUITZ IN FUTURE?

Alderman Todd drew a picture of Colquitz River as a series of beautiful cascades almost to the city limits a picture which was received with smiles by the audience.

Alderman Woodward appealed for development to be done for the citizens of Victoria, who were paying the bills. Hitherto the development had been for the visitors, and he hoped more thought should be given to the claims of citizens at Elk Lake.

A committee was also chosen to advance the hatchery project mentioned by Alderman Sangster, composed of Aldermen Todd and Sangster, Messrs. Preston and Pringle.

Offer No Alibis For Downfall of World's Champs

Canadiens Master of Ottawa in Final Game of N.H.L. Playoff, Winning 4-2

Flying Frenchmen Have One of Greatest Teams That Ever Stepped Out on Ice

Ottawa, March 12—Montreal Canadiens, National Hockey League champions, will play their Stanley Cup series on Ottawa's artificial ice, according to Leo Dandurand, manager of the Canadiens. It is likely the champions will train here for the series.

Arrangements between the auditorium and Dandurand were completed after the game last night, according to The Journal, which states that when Dandurand saw how much support his team drew here last night he changed his opinion and decided to call off the tentative arrangements to hold the series in Toronto.

It is expected the first Stanley Cup game will be played next Wednesday, though this date is not official.

Ottawa, March 12 — Local sport writers have no alibis to offer in regard to Montreal's four to two victory last night when they won the two-game series for the National Hockey League championship by five goals to two on the round. The accounts of the game in The Citizen and The Journal agree that the former world's champions were outskated, outplayed and most of the time outbrained.

"Some of the more partisan supporters of the Ottawas will probably blame the referees for the loss of the game," states The Citizen, "but that would be unfair to the new champions. There are others who will attribute the downfall to one of the greatest teams that ever stepped out on ice to inferior net guarding on the part of Benedict and weak play on the part of Captain Frank Nighbor, but these alibis are not sufficient. True, Benedict had an off night and Nighbor, after being slipped over the eye by Billy Boucher early in the opening period, appeared to lose his effectiveness, but the fact remains Canadiens turned in a very superior brand of championship hockey and are entitled to the spoils of victory. The once great Ottawa hockey machine cracked under the strain."

JOLIAT THE STAR

"Two better players than Joliat and Morenz on last night's performance have seldom been seen in action here," states The Journey. "Joliat played one of the greatest games of his career and he was the hero of the game. Morenz followed him, and while a greater worker and more spectacular performer, it was the smashing work of Joliat that aroused the crowd to a frenzy of enthusiasm. Joliat outplayed Punch Broadbent, Morenz made Nighbor look very ordinary, and with these players shaded Canadiens were bound to have the best of it. Ottawas wilted under the pace set by Canadiens. They went down fighting but they were most of the time a badly disorganized team. For once they met their masters.

"The same jinx that always follows presentations hovered around Frank Nighbor, who, after he was presented with the Hart trophy, could not get going."

Ottawa, March 12—Before a packed house estimated at about 11,000 Montreal Canadiens last night defeated Ottawa Senators four to two and won the National Hockey League championship and the right to defend the Stanley Cup against the western challengers.

Last night's victory gave the Montrealers a total of five goals to two on the series, as they won the first in Montreal Saturday night one to nothing.

For two periods the play was lightning fast and the excitement was intense. Canadiens started out in a business-like way and added a goal to the one carried into the struggle. Ottawa struck back and tied the game up, but the Frenchmen made it two and three and one. Then the locals drove in another one, but the Habitants squelched the hopes of local supporters when they banged home another to make it safe.

The final twenty minutes was uneventful, Canadiens only attacking in flashes, while their airtight defence held the frantic efforts of the Ottawa attackers at a safe distance.

SENATORS OFF COLOR

At only one or two stages of the game did the Senators show the form they displayed on previous occasions, both here and away from home, this season. The famous team play which has featured their engagements was lacking. Individual efforts constituted the bulk of their efforts, and these were not up to the usual standard.

Summary

First period—One, Canadiens, Morenz, 12.20; two, Ottawa, Denenny, 1.00.

Second period—Three, Canadiens, Morenz, 3.30; four, Canadiens, Joliat, 3.00; five, Ottawa, Denenny, 6:55; six, Canadiens, W. Boucher, 5.40.

Third period—No score.

Montreal, March 12.—Canadiens, champions of the N.H.L., will only play for the Stanley Cup, emblematic of the hockey championship of Canada, in games with the champions of the West.

Leo Dandurand, manager of the Canadien hockey team, made this announcement this morning.

Mr. Dandurand said his club would not enter any series of games with two western teams, such as had been suggested by the Patricks, Pacific Coast moguls. The Canadiens were willing to play a series of five games.

COLWOOD LADIES

The monthly medal competition of the ladies of the Colwood Golf Club will be held to-morrow.

FRENCHMEN'S HERO

AURIEL JOLIAT

Much of the credit of Canadiens' victory over Ottawa last night in the final game of the National Hockey League playoff is given to Joliat, whose dashing attack caused the downfall of the world's champions. Joliat is spending his second year in professional hockey, having been secured by Canadiens from a western club last year.

St. Mark's Prove Too Strong for Burnside Club

Carpet Bowling Game Ends in Victory For Home Club by Twelve Shots

Burnside Club last evening in St. Mark's Hall the home team proved too much for their less experienced visitors in a carpet bowling game.

In the first half the Burnside men more than held their own, but a score of five in one end heartened the home side, which picked up wonderfully and ran out winners by twelve shots.

A return visit will be made to the Burnside Club headquarters next season.

The results were:

St. Marks—C. Braden, C. Goodwin, T. Gibson, F. J. Byng (skip), 19; F. Saunders, T. Bryant, G. Ford, R. Huddleston (skip), 27. Total 46.

Burnside—A. Pass, W. Tomes, D. Vallance, J. Renfrew (skip), 17; J. P. Hibben, D. Dewar, T. McCosh, G. Vallance (skip), 17. Total 34.

John Paterson acted as scorekeeper.

Seattle Lacrosse League to Operate To Play B.C. Teams

Seattle, March 12.—The Seattle Lacrosse League will get under way this Summer with three teams. From these a city team will be chosen to represent Seattle in an international league with Vancouver, New Westminster and possibly Victoria and Nanaimo.

These decisions were reached here last night at a meeting of the league. Delegates who recently visited the British Columbia cities report that the Northerners are ready to enter an amateur circuit with Seattle, and that arrangements for the formation of a league will be concluded in the early future.

Girls' Hoop Game To-night Has Fans Standing on Toes

From all reports there will be a big crowd of basketball fans, particularly those who follow the games in the ladies' leagues, at the Y.M.C.A. gym to-night, when the Fidelis girls will endeavor to duplicate their success of last season by capturing the Sunday School League championship. They face their hardest game of the season, as their rivals, the Metropolitan girls, are reported to be in great form and are confidently hoping for a win. If Audrey Jost and Muriel Daniels are in form the Fidelis guards will be kept busy.

Fidelis strengthened their team considerably this season when they secured Hilda Best, formerly with the Duncan team. Her shooting combined with the speed and scoring ability of Isobel Crawford makes the team a formidable one. Irif Phillbrook has been playing wonderfully well at guard this season.

CAN LAND TITLE

A win for Fidelis to-night will give them the championship once again as the season is now practically over. A win for the Mets would create great interest in the second meeting of these same teams next week.

Cedar Hill girls will open the evening's programme to-night when they meet the St. Andrew's Blue Streaks at 7.30 o'clock.

Saanichton girls will then line up against the Axioms at 8 o'clock, after which the championship game will take place.

Both the Cedar Hill and Saanichton teams are new at the game but have been progressing rapidly and they are both keen to try their ability on the Y.M.C.A. floor.

The following league games are billed for to-night at the Trades Hall commencing at 7 o'clock: St. Andrew's vs. St. Mary's, Belmont vs. Christ Church and Bays vs. Adanacs.

Dempsey Says He Will Only Fight Firpo This Year

World's Champion Will Take But One Chance of Losing His Crown

Chicago, March 12.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, will defend his title against Luis Firpo, South American fighter, in New York on Labor Day, he announced after his arrival here last night.

The Argentinan will be his only opponent this year, the champion said. Decision to fight Firpo was reached at a conference with Jack Kearns, his manager, before he left New York.

The public wants the match, he asserted.

"Most of the fans naturally would expect to see another such battle as we put up at the Polo Grounds, but it is seldom that two fights repeat in such fashion," Dempsey said. "I know Firpo's style of fighting now, and our next meeting may not prove as interesting. By this I mean the fans will not see me going out of the ring as a result of one of Firpo's punches.

IT WILL BE QUIET

"If Firpo is beaten by Wills or Gibbons, then naturally I would be compelled to fight the winner. However, I understand Firpo, will not engage in any fights until he meets me. Under such conditions it looks like a quiet outdoor season for me."

The champion looked a bit thin and pale as a result of his recent operation. He planned to leave at once for Salt Lake City to visit his parents before going on to the coast, where he will engage in motion pictures for three months.

AFTER DAVIS CUP

New York, March 12.—Cuba and Belgium entered yesterday 1924 competition for the Davis Cup, emblem of international tennis supremacy, increasing the number of challengers to nineteen, and establishing a record. The previous record of seventeen challengers was made a year ago.

German Grappler Tosses Three Men Inside One Hour

San Francisco, March 12.—Richard Schikat, German heavyweight wrestling champion, threw three opponents in less than one hour here last night, under catch-as-catch-can rules.

A "masked unknown," the first wrestler to oppose him, grappled to a draw for the first 20 minutes of the bout, but succumbed in two seconds when they met again after Schikat had thrown his other two opponents in the meantime.

Nick Miller was disposed of in 20 minutes 40 seconds, and Cliff Lewis in 6 minutes 5 seconds byk Scnikat. He used varying holds in each fall.

Ad Santel, light heavyweight mat champion, won the judges' decision over Demetrius Martinoff, 230-pound Russian, at the end of an hour s wrestling.

New World's Mark Set For Hurdles

New York, March 12.—Carl Christierson, of the Newark A.C., set a new world's record in the sixty-yard high hurdles at the Metropolitan A.A.U. games last night. His time was 7 3-5 seconds. Christierson's time is a record with four hurdles standing, all former records at that distance being with five hurdles.

New York A.C. athletes won the meet, scoring thirty-six points. Newark A.C. was second with twenty-nine points.

FISHING AT SOOKE

Special to The Times

Sooke, March 12.—The fishing season has commenced in the Sooke waters and already some fine trout have been caught. A number of visitors from Victoria spent Saturday and Sunday out here fishing and were well rewarded for their efforts. A trout weighing a pound and a quarter was landed safely on shore only after the fish had made a fair promise of swimming away, hook and all. It is believed by all of the Sooke fishermen around that this is but a small showing of what the season's catch will be.

OLD COUNTRY FOOTBALL

Glasgow, March 12. — In a game played in the Scottish First League yesterday, Rangers defeated Hearts, 1-0.

VERDICT FOR HARPER

Seattle, March 12.—Bobby Harper, of Seattle, won an easy decision over Chick Roach, San Francisco welterweight, in the six-round main event of a boxing card here last night. In the semi-windup, Freddie Mack, Seattle, welterweight, knocked out Billy Morrow, of Spokane, in the fifth round of a six round affair.

Sailor Aragon, of Manila, and Marty Fosse, of Everett, bantamweights, fought four rounds to a draw decision.

FILIPINO A WINNER

Los Angeles, March 12. — Young Nationalista, Filipino flyweight of San Francisco, took the decision over Frankie Grandetta, of Portland, in the final half of a double main event at Vernon Arean here last night. Young Nationalista had the first, second and fourth round all to himself.

In the other feature bout Billy Kennedy, New Orleans bantamweight, fought a lively draw with Eddie Macey, Los Angeles.

Canadian Soccer Team To Play Game In City

Squad Going to Australia Will Perform Against Victoria All-star Eleven on Wednesday, April 9; Jimmy Adam, Well-known Local Sportsman, Has Been Appointed Manager of Tour

Jimmy Adam, for years one of the leading soccer men in Canada, will manage the Canadian All-star team on its tour of Australia.

The Canadian All-star team will play a game in Victoria against the pick of the Capital on the afternoon of Wednesday, April 9.

These two important announcements were made this morning and will be greeted with great enthusiasm by local football enthusiasts.

Jimmy Adam has been honored by the Dominion Football Association in being selected to manage the team. Jimmy is now getting things in shape to leave next month and will be away from the city for five months, during which time he will visit all the states in Australia.

For a score of years Jimmy has been identified with football in Canada. The most of his activities have been centred on Vancouver Island and Ladysmith was his particular home. For a long period he ranked as the cleverest centre-half in football. Since retiring from the playing field he has devoted much of his time to executive work and at present is the British Columbia councillor to the D.F.A.

Jimmy will be a busy man while on the tour, as he will be responsible for the handling of the Canadian team in all its matches as well as looking after the finances.

Will Play Game Here

The eastern representatives on the Canadian team will assemble at Calgary and then come on to Vancouver, where the British Columbians will join the squad. An exhibition game will be played in the Terminal City on April 8 and arrangements have just been completed to have the team come here that night for a game the following day with a team of all-stars picked from the Victoria teams. The hour and place of the game has not been decided upon yet.

Most of the local footballers will be in good shape by the date of that game, as all teams will be busy for several weeks yet, disposing of the various leagues at present operating.

JIMMY ADAM

British Columbia will have a strong representation on the Canadian team, as in addition to Jimmy Adam there will be Don Morrison, of Ladysmith, who will go as trainer; Mosher, goal, of Vancouver; Anderson, full-back, of Ladysmith; Armstrong, half-back, of Vancouver; Stobart, half-back, of Nanaimo, and Chapman, forward, of Ladysmith.

The team will play one game at Honolulu en route.

"Shorty" Russick Wins Dog Derby, Setting New Record

Saskatoon March 12—"Shorty" Russick wins The Pas Dog Derby, finishing at 10.55 o'clock this morning.

"Shorty" Russick finished in twenty-three hours and forty-five minutes, setting a new record of the 200-mile event. The previous record was held by Bill Grayson, who, with C. B. Morgan's team of dogs in 1922 completed the grind in twenty-four hours five minutes.

When Russick finished this morning, no other team was in sight.

A huge crowd, estimated at more than 1,500 people, thronged the banks of the Pas River as Russick brought his fleet sleigh-pullers down the stretch and past the strung-out line of spectators to the finish mark.

He had set the pace from the time the starter, Jack Gagnon, had given the command that put the dog derby in motion Tuesday morning. It was amid the greatest of excitement and cheering that shook the very wilderness that Russick guided his champion huskies into port.

FRIEDMAN SUSPENDED

Philadelphia, March 12.—The Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission to-day suspended Sailor Friedman, of Chicago, for one year for cutting his boxing gloves and removing hair padding prior to his bout with Ray Mitchell here last night.

Dick Curley, of Chicago, Friedman's manager, was suspended for sixty days for ignoring the request of the commission to appear before it to-day.

JIM McCLEAVE AND FOUR OF HIS ARAB HORSES THAT WILL PERFORM TO-NIGHT AT HORSE SHOW

One of the finest equine displays that has been seen in this city since the pre-war days will be open this evening at the Horse Show Building at the Willows. The splendid horses in the McCleave stable, which have swept all before them in the horse shows at Portland, Ore., and other coast cities, will perform in jumping, bending and various other events, while the little Arab ponies will put on humorous events, including the steeplechase. Professor, the noted trick horse, will also be on the programme. Corn Cob, holder of the world's high jump record for horses of 14.2 hands and under, will step over the bars. Many of the McCleave horses are well known and very popular with the children of Victoria through the fact that they have participated in Spencer's Christmas celebrations for the last two years. Hundreds of youngsters have enjoyed rides on the ponies. The show will be repeated to-morrow night.

Kingston Street Tennis Club Will Start Activities

Courts Will be Opened on March 22; Club to Hold Dance This Evening

The season of the Kingston Street Lawn Tennis Club will open on Saturday, March 22, if the weather conditions permit. The courts have been put in excellent shape by J. W. Butterworth and by the opening date three courts will be in first-class condition.

The club will start the 1924 season under most favorable conditions. Already, in addition to last year's members who have signified their intention to play again this year, forty new members have joined the club, and there are excellent prospects of there being 100 members before the season is far advanced.

CLAY COURT TOURNEY

The open tournament for the clay court championships of Victoria has been set for August 16 to 23. Last year this tourney attracted 200 entries and aroused great interest in tennis circles all through British Columbia. There have been five challenge cups donated for this tournament. The ladies' singles championship is held by Miss Marjorie Leeming, the men's singles by K. Verley, the mixed doubles by Miss M. Leeming and J. Proctor, the men's doubles by A. M. D. Fairbairn and J. Proctor, and the ladies' doubles by the Misses M. and H. Leeming. All these players are expected to compete again this year and, as was the case last year, many out-of-town players are likely to take part in the tournament.

Club tournaments, both scratch and handicap, will be staged by the club during the course of the coming Summer months. A number of matches will also be arranged with other clubs.

DANCE TO-NIGHT

An informal preseason dance will be held this evening at the K. of C. Hall, Government Street, at 9 o'clock. Dancing will be from 9 till 1 oclock, with Ozard's orchestra in attendance.

TIE IN BILLIARDS

Chicago, March 12.—Dr. Andrew Harris, Chicago A.A., tied for first place with R. N. Roscow, Baltimore, yesterday in the national amateur three-cushion billiards tournament by defeating Otto Spellman, Chicago A.A., 50 to 38 in eighty innings. Each had a high run of four. In an earlier match Champion Robert Lord suffered his second defeat of the tournament at the hands of Luis Vogler, Indianapolis A.A., 50 to 43 in seventy innings, each had a high run of five.

Espinosa is Busy Breaking Records

San Francisco, March 12.—Espinoza, of Oakland, golf professional, has broken the records of two courses in this vicinity in the last few days.

He made the Oakland municipal course in 69, bettering par, which is 71, for the first time since the links were opened six months ago. The next day he shot the eighteen holes at the Lake Merced course in 68, three below par, and five lower than the previous record, made by John Black, the noted golfer.

EARL BAIRD LOSES

New York, March 12.—Jack Hausner, New York featherweight, defeated Earl Baird, of Seattle, in a six-round bout last night.

TO STICK TO PEN

BILL TILDEN

New York, March 12.—The United States will be without the services of its two tennis "aces" in the 1924 Olympic competition as a result of William T. Tilden's withdrawal because of a ruling that American Olympic competitors cannot write for newspapers or syndicates while abroad.

William M. Johnston, former champion, previously had decided he would be unable to join the Olympic team which the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association plans to send to France.

The anti-writing regulation may further hit the ranks of tennis team candidates, it was pointed out, because Vincent Richards, Davis Cup player and fourth national ranking star, also is said to have a 1924 contract for newspaper work.

Monarchs Reach Playoff by Win Over James Bays

Will Play Senators in Intermediate Roller Hockey League

The results of the roller hockey games played last evening at the V.I. A.A. gymnasium, Victoria West, were as follows:

Midgets—Fleetfoots 8, Red Rovers 1.

The best game of the evening was the match between Monarchs and Capitals. These teams were tied in the league for second place, and a win was necessary last night in order to get into the play-off with the Senators. At the final whistle the score was tied at three-all and an overtime period was played. After five minutes' play Unwin scored the winning goal for the Monarchs. The scorers in the game were: Union 3 and Chatton 1 for the Monarchs, and Tilyer 2 and Taylor 1 for the Capitals.

The midget's game between Fleetfoots and Red Fovers proved to be an easy victory for the former, who proved to be too strong for the Rover boys. The scorers in this game were: Hall 6 and Drysdale 2 for the winners, and Sutherland 1 for the losing team.

The other intermediate game between V.I.A.A. and Cougars was also keenly contested, and was won by the former after a hard struggle. The scorers in this game were: Smith 2, Walker 2 and Patterson 1 for the winners, and Woods 3 for the Cougars.

The senior game was won by the Tigers by default from the Fairfield Wanderers, who failed to turn out a team. The games were refereed by James Kennedy and Wm. McAllister, Junior.

To-morrow night's games will be as follows:

Intermediates—Vikins vs. Foul Bay Monarchs.

Midgets—Fairfield Rovers vs. Fleetfoots.

OUR MAIL BAG

SUGGESTS REP TEAM

To the Sports Editor!—It was reported in The Times on Friday that four teams had entered for the Connaught cup competition. Personally I don't think any one of the four teams entered is good enough to leave the Island.

Why not get one good rep team and enter it is the Victoria City team?

Have a short series of games, as Possibles vs. Probables, and use men of experience whose conduct on the field is of the best, alongside of whom I would have two or three youngsters, thus combining youth with experience.

I would also suggest that the final selection be left to one man, and my choice would be James Adam.

What about the undermentioned as one of the teams? Goal, Waggett (Esquimalt); fullbacks, Bell (North Wards) and H. Copas (Broad Street); halfbacks, Thomas (Wests), C. Owen (Vets) and Anstead (S.O.E.); forwards, Stewart (Esquimalt), P. Mulcahy (Wests), John Cummings (Vets.), Bridges (S.O.E.), Shanks (S.O.E.), John Cummings (Vets.)

Even if this is not feasible for the Connaught cup, it would be in order for the visit of the fleet, and later on for the Corinthians.

Roller Hockey Is To Take in More Territory at Once

Other Cities in Pacific Northwest Will Organize Leagues; Four Classes

A meeting of persons interested in promoting roller hockey in the Pacific Northwest was held over the week-end at the home of W. H. Davies, secretary of the Victoria league. Representatives from Spokane, Portland, Vancouver, Seattle and Tacoma attended the meeting.

After a lengthy discussion in regard to playing rules and sundry details in connection with the game it was unanimously resolved that a Pacific Northwest governing body should be formed to control the sport in this section.

The first officers of the new association are as follows: President, E. V. Walby, Seattle; vice-president, Dr. Cecil Hay, Victoria; secretary-treasurer, W. H. Davies, Victoria. Board of managers—Seattle, A. G. Craig and J. F. Griffin; Spokane, S. T. Ware; Portland, Joe Austin and Walter Nash; Tacoma, H. A. Browne; Vancouver, B.C., Wm. Bentham; Victoria, James McCahill and Tom Rickinson.

Other delegates will be named for Bellingham, Everett, Port Angeles, Bremerton, Nanaimo and other Northwest cities.

The weights decided upon for the divisions of the league are ninety pounds, 110 pounds, 130 pounds and 150 pounds. These weights are to be made at the beginning of the season when the card of the contestant will be endorsed by the local officials. The playing season is to run from Nov. 15 to March 31.

At the finish of the season the winners of the American and Canadian sections of the league will meet in home-and-home games for the Northwest championship and the winning team will play the holders of the cup for the world's championship.

Spalding Bros. have kindly offered to do their utmost to make the new league a success and letters have been sent to all the managers of their branches in United States and Canada calling their attention to this new sport and requesting them to get busy and follow the lead of Victoria and Seattle and get leagues started, and send in challenges for the cups which are now held by Victoria. Two cups will also be put up for the other classes, 110 and 150 pounds, which have not been decided as yet.

Collegiate to Meet Shawnigan in Final

In the semi-final of the Wilson Cup series the Collegiate School met and defeated St. Aidan's at Beacon Hill yesterday afternoon. The score was four goals to one. The Collegiate players were unable to find their stride during the first half, and, with the aid of the wind St. Aidan's pressed continuously, but found Cox, the Collegiate goalie, in fine form. Their efforts were rewarded by Mearns turning the ball into the net from a corner.

Changing ends, the Collegiate had much the better of the play, and Mackay opened the scoring from a scrimmage near goal. Marriott shortly afterwards scored the second goal from a free kick some distance out. Keeping up the pressure, Phillips founds the net with a beautiful long shot. Stung by this further reverse, St. Aidan's tried hard to get on even terms, but the stone wall defence of Archbold and the two Collegiate backs was too much for them. Towards the end Woodley placed the issue beyond doubt with a very neat shot, and Collegiate qualified for the final by a score of four goals to one. For the losers Terry, Campbell and Mearns played well.

Collegiate will play Shawnigan on Saturday in the final.

Carelessness Results in Liver Poisoning, Indicated by Headache, Gas, Biliousness, Sour Stomach—Dr. H. S. Thacher Aids Many

Eating too much and too rapidly clogs the liver and weakens it. When in this condition, the liver fails to supply the juices so vital to proper digestion and elimination—and it fails to filter and purify the blood.

The result is self-poisoning, which makes you feel dull, tired and run-down.

This explains why a sluggish liver is attended by such symptoms as constipation, biliousness, sick-headaches, sourness and gas on a weak stomach, loss of appetite, pains in the back and sides, and a nervous, run-down, condition—symptoms that lead to the dangerous and expensive sick-bed unless corrected in time.

Dr. H. S. Thacher, noted medical practitioner, perfected a wholesome vegetable prescription to keep the liver healthy. It is giving quick relief and renewed strength, energy and vigor to numbers here. This prescription, known pharmaceutically as Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup, doesn't cost much, pleasant to take and contains only ingredients that are known to physicians for their corrective and health-building properties.

Try this great prescription yourself. Notice the quick difference in the way you look, eat, sleep and feel. You will be completely satisfied; otherwise, there will be no cost.

Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup is sold and recommended by Cyrus H. Bowes and Taylor Drug Co. in Victoria; A. G. Fulmer in Esquimalt, and by leading druggists in each city and town. (Advt.)

AUSTRALIA SPENT NIGHT ANCHORED IN ROYAL ROADS

Docked Early This Morning; Brought Many Passengers From the Far East

Nearly 300 in All Classes; Prominent Persons Aboard

Reaching quarantine before sundown last night but unable to proceed to Vancouver had she come to her berth here, the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Australia, Capt. A. J. Hailey, R.N.R., did not tie up at the Outer Docks until early this morning. The liner spent the night anchored in the Royal Roads.

She made quarantine at 7 o'clock last night, but owing to the set in the tide en route to Vancouver it was decided to remain in the Royal Roads overnight and dock here first thing this morning. The liner tied up at Pier 2 at 6.30 o'clock and after landing passengers and discharging twenty-five tons of cargo cleared for the Terminal City shortly after 8 o'clock.

A large passenger list was brought from the Orient this trip. There were nearly 300 passengers, including first and second class and steerage. The ship carried sixty-six first class, forty-eight second class and 160 steerage, making a total of 274 passengers. Of the 160 steerage, twenty-two debarked here. There was also a large party of Russian immigrants aboard.

Prominent among the first class passengers were: Sir William and Lady Brumyate, K.C.M.G. and Vice-chancellor of the Hongkong University, en route to London; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dyer, prominent banker throughout the Far East; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Sorter, vice-president of the Sorter Tobacco Company of New York; N. Lambert, of the Maple Leaf Milling Company, Winnipeg, and Dr. Carl Tenbroeck, Medical Professor at the Peking University.

BOXER INDEMNITY TO BE WELL SPENT

Fund Will Provide Institution of International Prominence, Says Vice-Chancellor

Sir William Brumyate, of Hongkong University, Returns From Orient

To establish educational institutions of international importance, two at Peking and the third at Shanghai, and to help Chinese students in Japan, is what the Boxer indemnity fund will be used for, according to Sir William Brumyate, K.C.M.G., who passed through Victoria to-day aboard the Empress of Australia, en route to the Old Country. Sir William Brumyate, who is Vice-Chancellor of the Hongkong University, was accompanied by his wife, Lady Brumyate.

The projects decided upon cover the building and equipping of a science laboratory and also a great Oriental library, both in Peking, and of a science laboratory in Shanghai, with the extending of pecuniary help to deserving Chinese students in Japan, who may be in needy circumstances. A committee which has been placed in charge of the fund, says Sir William, is determined to carry out the three undertakings on a fairly large scale, worthy of international attention.

"As to assisting students, the matter has been one of urgent necessity; not a few of the hopeful young men being obliged to earn their own living as they go along studying, while others have been forced to abandon their student life altogether," he concluded.

IF RHEUMATIC BEGIN ON SALTS

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure, Eat No Sweets

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat no sweets of any kind for a while drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of Jad Salts occasionally to help keep down uric and toxic acids.

Rheumatism is caused by poison toxins, called acids, which are generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this poison, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove body waste asio to stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. (Advt.)

JEFFERSON IN FROM YOKOHAMA

Made Port Fifteen Minutes Ahead of Empress of Australia Last Night

Brought Record First Class Mail; 400 Tons of Cargo For Victoria

The Admiral-Oriental liner President Jefferson, Captain F. R. Nichols, finished first in a 4,600-mile run across the Pacific against the Canadian Pacific Empress of Australia, both vessels reaching quarantine last night.

The Empress of Australia left Yokohama at 3 o'clock in the afternoon of March 1, while the Jefferson left the same time, but on March 2, twenty-four hours behind the Australia. At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon the Jefferson passed the Australia just outside the Strait and docked at quarantine fifteen minutes ahead of the Canadian Pacific liner. The Jefferson averaged eighteen knots an hour during the race.

Arriving at the quarantine station at 6.45 o'clock last night the vessel after securing pratique docked at pier A of the Ogden Point docks to discharge 400 tons of Oriental cargo including a feature shipment of sixty tons of rice. The vessel cleared for Seattle at 2 o'clock this morning.

A record first class mail shipment was brought over by the Admiral-Oriental liner. It was the largest shipment of Oriental mail that has ever been brought to the United States from the Orient. There were 2,500 bags of mail. Twenty-five were discharged at Victoria. Included in the Seattle cargo there were 2,500 bales of raw silk valued at $3,000,000, and 9,000 bales of hemp. # RECONSTRUCTION SLOW IN ORIENT

Lumber Shipments Erratic at Present But Activity Expected Soon

Seattle Lumberman Predicts 20 Per Cent Increase in Imports

"No definite judgment can be passed on the future situation of Japanese shipping with particular reference to the freight business," stated Thomas Welley, Seattle lumberman on his return from the Orient aboard the President Jefferson, which docked here last night.

"Opinions are divided between optimism and pessimism among shipping men, as the cargo conditions are erratic at present with constant changes in freights and charterage," he continued.

"Those who are optimistic predict that the possible continuance of importation of reconstruction materials into Japan will serve as an impetus to business prosperity. Lumber forms the premier cargo of reconstruction materials, but the demand is not yet active, as reconstruction enterprises are progressing very slowly," he stated. "The optimists entertain a hopeful view for future of the lumber business on the ground that Government financial support of businessmen has been promised at an early date. Demand for lumber will increase then and lumber shipment will prosper."

"North Pacific lumber importations this year is expected to increase by about twenty per cent.," he concluded.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

JAPAN GOVERNMENT PREPARING TO MAKE PRESENTATION SOON

Capt. S. Robinson Will be Honored on His Visit to Yokohama in April

Plans are being made to honor Capt. S. Robinson, C.B.E., R.N.R., now in command of the liner Empress of Canada, when he arrives at Yokohama in April, it was learned on the arrival of the liner Empress of Australia from the Orient this morning. The Empress of Canada will be in Yokohama for eight days. The Japanese Government will participate in the ceremonies, and will make a presentation to the captain, who performed heroic work during the great catastrophe of September 1 last.

It was also learned that the Canadian Pacific Railway have received from Boorings, Willis, Faber and Company £2,152.10 for distribution among the officers and crew of the Empress of Australia for saving their ship and for salvage work in Yokohama Harbor during the Japan earthquake.

While the Empress of Australia was in Yokohama this trip G. Costello, general agent for the Canadian Pacific steamships, arrived from Kobe to make preparations and arrangements with hotels and railway authorities in connection with the arrival of the large number of tourists on the Empress of Canada, which will arrive at that port on April 29 staying eight days.

STRANGE COINCIDENCE OCCURS AT YOKOHAMA

Jefferson and Australia Meet Exactly Six Months After 'Quake at Yokohama

Reinterment Ceremony is Held Same Day Causing Superstition

A strange coincidence occurred while the President Jefferson and the Empress of Australia were in the Orient. It so happened that on the same day, Saturday, March 1 and exactly six months after the great catastrophe of September 1 last, the President Jefferson and Empress of Australia, the two rescue ships, met in the harbor of Yokohama.

Stranger still was the re-interment of the bodies that had been buried at the Royal Naval Cemetery at the International Cemetery. The more superstitious ones in Yokohama were looking for another earthquake but their fears were not gratified.

Dr. H. F. Wilkinson, the surgeon aboard the Jefferson, who first noted this strange coincidence gave a description of the re-interment of the bodies on March 1.

He said that "a little group of foreigners including representatives of legations and embassies, not more than 100 in all, gathered on a sloping hillside in the quake-torn Yokohama General Cemetery to again pay respects before the graves of friends and relatives who were killed in the disaster. Amid the jumbled mass of broken granite that once was tombstones marking the graves of foreigners this little group stood while the regular reinterment services of the Episcopal Church were observed.

"Twenty-eight fresh mounds, each marked with a roughly-hewn wooden cross, mark the graves of the foreigners who were buried in the cemetery. The graves are laid side by side on a little slope that faces out over the city of Yokohama, now a checker board of sheet iron roofs and fire-charred empty places. A wreath of flowers was placed on each grave marker before the services began.

"The Rev. H. C. Spackman, of St. Paul's University; the Rev. O. St. M. Forrester, honorary secretary of the chaplain of Christ's Church, of Yokohama, and Professor G. H. Moule, of St. Paul's University in church vestments, filed down to a spot in front of the little cluster of graves. In the absence of Bishop Heaslett, of Tokio, these three members of the church took charge of the services."

Dog Plays Chief Role at Royal in "The Love Master"

Strongheart, the wonder dog, starring in his latest First National picture at the Royal Theatre, is proving one of the greatest attractions which has been shown in months in a local motion picture house. Since the release of his first picture, about two years ago, Strongheart has been one of the most popular stars on the screen, and his current productions seem to hit the fancy of every one.

Perhaps it is because "The Love Master" is not a starring vehicle within the meaning of the description in motion picture circles. Strongheart is undoubtedly the leading member of the cast by right of the ability he displays, but the picture was not built up around him. The story is the main consideration, and because Strongheart has plenty of things to do and does them in splendid fashion he gains recognition as the star. But evidently he is not jealous, for he seems pleased to share honors with Mrs. Strongheart, registered in the American Kennel Club annals as Lady Julia, and five sons and daughters of his as well as an extensive human cast including Lillian Rich and Harold Austin.

Then there are many thrills. The picture has hardly started before the heroine is caught far from home and safety by a pack of famished wolves, and only the speed of Strongheart saves her.

Bing Boys Continue to Give Pleasure at Playhouse

Will Marshall and Peggy Lewis once more are delighting large audiences this week at the Playhouse Theatre, with a charming song and dance "Ring-a-ling" from the "Bing Boys from Bingville" which is Reginald Hincks offering this week. This Revue is probably the funniest that was produced in London during the war and was the most popular of all the old Playhouse Company's productions. In its revised form it has lost nothing of its humor and only the very best of the music is being used.

Following this is a thrilling detective film production from the Saturday Evening Post story "Fifty Candles" which is showing for the first time here. The comedy this week "A Hula Honeymoon" is of a particularly high order and provides one long laugh from start to finish.

Raymond Hatton Stars at Columbia in Difficult Role

"The outstanding feature of the production is the little kid, Frank Darro, a mere handful of sparkling black eyes, nimble legs and quick arms, who plays 'Half-a-Dollar-Bill,' the little foundling," said the Billboard, in reviewing Max Graf's new production for Metro, "Half-a-Dollar-Bill," that is now showing at the Columbia for the last time to-night.

"Watch your step, Jackie Coogan. You now have a competitor worthy of your mettle," the reviewer said. Although the six-year-old child actor makes his screen debut in this picture, he conducts himself like a veteran, and all their enthusiasm over the boy's performance, Max Graf, who discovered the youngster, predicts a brilliant future for him.

Griffith Excels in "The White Rose" at the Dominion

Mae Marsh "came back home" when she signed a contract to play a leading part in D. W. Griffith's next production "The White Rose," a United Artists release now showing at the Dominion.

After an absence of six years, the little freckle-faced school girl whom Griffith moulded into fame in "The Birth of a Nation" returned to his direction again to resume her career.

Mae Marsh was the youngest of all the screen leading women to attain celebrity. When she was fifteen, she went to the Griffith studio with her older sister, and was busily upturning stones to watch the black bugs crawl from under, when Griffith first saw the play of expression that has made her face unrivalled.

A year later she was known throughout the world as the little sister of the Cameron family in "The Birth of a Nation." Of her Mr. Griffith has said:

"Every other motion picture star I have ever known was 'made' by long training and much hard work, but Mae Marsh was born a film star. Destiny itself seemed to have been her coach in acting."

She was the youngest motion picture star to receive a large salary, long before she was of age having signed a contract for $3,000 a week with another producer.

The intervening years have brought her much experience, and with this she returns to the Griffith direction to face one of the most interesting experiments the spectacular motion picture industry has ever offered.

"Palace of the King" Now at Capitol Theatre

The radio, according to Miss Blanche Sweet, popular screen star, whose latest big role in Emmett Flynn's first Goldwyn picture, "In The Palace Of The King," which is now at the Capitol, gives a person exceptional training in "registering" different expressions required in motion picture acting.

Miss Sweet is an enthusiastic radio fan. She has become so familiar with radio that she can tell from expression of the person listening in, what is coming in through the receiving set.

When the person with the earphones attached to his head, starts rolling eyes and tapping feet, a jazz number is certain to be on the air. When the individual listening in cries "Ouch" and clutches at the phones—it's a cinch old George Static is causing the mischief. A violin number always brings the same expression to everyone's face as do other forms or "air entertainment."

"There is nothing more conductive to a training in motion picture expression than the radio," said Miss Sweet recently. "It is interesting to watch the person listening in and see the different distinct expressions which they 'register.' These are just the kind of expressions the director demands in the movies but which he does not always get from the players."

Mantell to Open With "Richelieu" Next Friday

At Pantages Theatre, Friday night of this week, Robert Bruce Mantell, the eminent Shakesperean actor will commence a two day's engagement. The opening play will be Sir Edward Bulwar Lyttons "Richelieu."

Saturday matinee, Mr. Mantell will present "As You Like It," and on Saturday night, "Julius Caesar."

An actor is often spoken of as playing a part. Mantell does more than this. Instead of playing Richelieu, he is Richelieu. At no time during the play does one think of the actor, all interest is centred in the cardinal.

Miss Genevieve Hamper, who plays the part of Julie de Mortemar, ward of Richelieu, has a pleasing stage appearance, and a rich musical voice. She was earnest and painstaking in her interpretation of a difficult role, her work in the fifth act when she begs the clemency of the frivolous and light-headed Louis in favor of her husband being well in keeping with the fine reputation she has gained as an actress of ability.

Notable Cast in "The Eternal City" Here Next Week

Brilliant Cast Enacts Famous Hall Caine Story Coming to Dominion on Monday

Barbara La Marr.
Lionel Barrymore.
Bert Lytell.
Richard Bennett.
Montagu Love.

Five names of international renown; five real stars of the silver sheet.

And all five of them are appearing in a single picture, "The Eternal City," which opens at the Dominion Theatre on Monday next.

Any one of these five names, appearing in the cast of a production, would be sufficient to assure its success. It required considerable inducement to assemble them for one picture; to share the stellar honors with others.

The story was that inducement, aided by the fact that it would be directed by George Fitzmaurice and released by First National.

For years covetous producers had made vain efforts to obtain the picture rights to the story, for its powerful appeal was widespread. Mr. Fitzmaurice was the fortunate bidder, for the author was convinced that he was the best fitted to transfer the tale to the screen.

Filmed in Rome, the local of the story, "The Eternal City" has been called the greatest hit of a decade.

Master Pianist Coming This Way

Some of the most famous pianists of the day are visiting the coast this season, but only one of these is coming to the city. This is Mark Hambourg, now on tour of Canada and acclaimed everywhere as one of the master pianists of all time. He plays here on Tuesday next, March 18, at Empress Hotel ballroom, and the sale of seats is now open at Fletcher Bros. The Musical Courier of Paris says: Mark Hambourg's third recital was given last night in the Theatre des Champs-Elysees, Paris, where the eminent pianist received an enthusiastic welcome. He gave this time a selection of Chopin's sweetest melodies, and he revealed the Polish composer in tender, voluptuous, mournful, soothing moods, passing from the Etudes to the Polonaises and then playing the great Sonata Op. 35. The pianist held his audience in breathless silence. . . . After the last note of the final Polonaise Op. 53, the public stood up and cheered the musician.

SILENT REPORTER IN JAIL.—"Where did you get that story?" asked the judge. "I won't tell," said Ralph F. King, assistant city editor of the Waukegan, Ill., Daily Sun. "Thirty days in jail, then," remarked the court. King, pictured above, moved his typewriter into his cell and kept at work. He keeps in touch with the outside world over a radio. His editor doubled his salary during imprisonment. King obtained his story from a confidential source and is keeping his pledge of secrecy despite courts and jails.

But she married a professor of Yale University while here and now, of course, doesn't want to return.

NO DIVORCES FOR THEM.—Here are Miss Thelma Jenkins, of Seattle and her wedded pair of love birds. This species is said to be so strictly monogamous, that if one of a mated couple dies, the other bird invariably pines away of a broken heart. Love birds call Australia and West Africa home. Once, when one of a valuable pair died, the owner placed a mirror in the cage, hoping the bird would mistake its own reflection for the real departed mate. But there was no warmth in what the glass held and the bereaved songster followed its destiny and died for love.

STAGED LIVELY PARTY.—Elwyn Bridgens, honorary colonel of cadets at the University of Missouri was suspended from school for alleged participation in a "lively" sorority party. DEAD DOG COMES FROM GRAVE.—"When Rover died, he died all over," so tradition says. But in Farmer City, Ill., a 1924 Rover scoffed at tradition. He was struck by a train and left for dead. His master, Ronald Horr, forteen, dug a little grave and tenderly laid him to rest. Rover, however, came forth from the land of the dead. Two days after his funeral, he dug himself out, for the frozen dirt had permitted air to seep into his grave, and consciousness returned. Rover forthwith trotted home for a bone.

Wall Street TO-DAY

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

New York, March 12, 1924

STOCKS REMAIN IN TRADING POSITION

(By R. P. Clark)—Stock market prices continued a trading area to-day, and advances and declines were about evenly divided. An outstanding feature of the day's news was the weekly report of car loadings which was extremely constructive, bearing as it does concrete evidence of the activity prevailing in most industrials lines.

The further recovery in the French franc was a helpful influence. There was some scattered selling inspired by the weakness in the grain market. Just now the stock market seems to be deadlocked in a trading area and it may take some fresh development of importance to move prices out of their present range. However, all things considered we continue to favor the policy of looking for buying opportunities on recessions.

By B.A. Bond Wire — Although trading was in slightly improved volume to-day the stock market continues very quiet. Early quotations were higher, especially in a few specialities and railroad issues. Southern Rail and Norfolk & Western featured the latter group, selling at new high records. It is expected Southern Railway will go on a four or five per cent basis to-morrow. Constructive factors seem to be at work in May Department Stores, Overland issues, and in the steels stocks. During the later part of the session the market became a little more active and lower quotations were established in the general list, some of the early strong features losing their gain.

The market seems to be a two-sided affair with opinion about equally divided as to the final outcome. Good judges of the market are buying selected stocks on moderate recessions. There are a few good brokerage opinions which express belief in lower prices for the whole list.

Car loadings week of March 1 were 945,049, increase 99,151 over preceding week and 26,425 over last year.

Texas Company earned $1.25 a share for year ended December 31.

McManus to-day says: "Trading market. Any good news from Washington will stimulate market."

French Government arranges twelve-months' acceptance credit with London banks of £5,000,000.

Dow Jones averages: Twenty industrials 97.81, .60 up; twenty rails 80.93, up .32; forty bonds 87.38, off .02.

Present indications are that car loadings for the week ended March 1 will reach a level between 940,000 and 950,000 cars.

There is a possibility that Pan-American Pete. dividend meeting may not be held until Monday as directors will arrive in Los Angeles Saturday. Some think the annual rate will be cut to $5 a share, others expect the present dividend will be cut in half, which means $4 annually.

The Lee Rubber Tire Corporation report for year ended December 31, 1923, net loss of $71,813, after depreciation and other charges against net profit of $370,493, equivalent to $2.47 share on no par stock for previous year.

Buying of Southern Railway, according to some of the so-called market experts, that complete agreement between Fairfax Harrison, president of the road, and the directors, and that to-morrow's meeting of the board would put the common stock on a $5 basis.

WILLYS' OVERLAND CUTS CAR PRICES

Willys' Overland reduced prices of Overland and Willys' Knight automobiles from $10 to $100. These reductions are due to the fact that shipments from the factory in January and February were 44,700 cars against 39,000 for entire of 1923.

Efforts of Southern senators to add amendment carrying appropriation of $25,000,000 for cotton growers delays vote in Senate on Norbeck burns bill providing $50,000,000 to finance diversication of crops in Northwest.

Operations in harbor of Hamburg tied up by strike of dockworkers.

THIRD PARTY GERM WORKING

Conference of thirteen organizations at St. Paul issues call for third party convention there to nominate presidential candidate.

EXPECT PAN DIVIDENDS TO BE BETTER

Housman to-day says: "Selling will not bring liquidation, and there is not enough buying to bring stocks from their dull routine.

"Constructive factors seem to be at work in stocks like PSG, WZA, DY, MAY and PHM. Mack Truck and White Motor hold up well enough to encourage purchase on any dip. Belief is gaining ground that Pan American dividend action may be more favorable than had been previously expected. Hence the short covering."

N. Y. Tribune points out that stock sales yesterday were smaller than for any other full session so far this year.

N. Y. Times says steel ingot production is at ninety-six per cent. of capacity.

NEW YORK BROKERS' OPINIONS

Prince & Whitely—We believe it advisable to take advantage of reasonable reactions to accumulate good stocks.

Hornblower & Weeks—Believe it good policy to sell stocks on rallies, for the immediate future.

Thomson McKinnon — Poor wire service will mean small volume and therefore no significance in either bulges or declines.

Short account has reached extensive proportions, brokers say. Number of leading room traders who joined the selling movements in past changed their position again yesterday and were among the urgent buyers.

Congress leaders say it is too late to act on request of President Coolidge for 25 per cent. income tax cut before March 15, because of unanimous consent rule.

International Telephone and Telegraph is organization negotiating for acquisition of Mexican Telegraph and Telephone.

Reorganization committee of U. S. Food Productions Corporation declares plan operative. More than 95 per cent. of Distillers Securities bonds deposited with the company.

American Sugar Refining, 1923 report shows $865,107 surplus after deducting reserve of $4,542,341 for refining construction. Net added to surplus is $1.92 a share.

OIL PROBE CHAIRMAN QUITS

Senator Lenroot has resigned as chairman of oil investigating committee, gives ill-health as reason.

Conference of thirteen organizations at St. Paul, issues call for third party convention there to nominate presidential candidate.

LIQUIDATION TO-DAY IN CHICAGO MARKET

Chicago, March 12 (By R. P. Clark)—Liquidation of long wheat was apparently started in earnest to-day with little intervention on the part of the bulls, who did little to protect their position. The various government and private estimates indicating approximately as much wheat available for the remainder of the crop year as was available in 1922 at this time took the wind out of the bulls' sails. Instead of supporting their position May bulls unloaded and the market right now is staggering under a load that will bother it to hold up under.

Southwest reports indicate that the crop will be in excess of a year ago, in spite of the smaller acreage. The report on the world's available supply shows a stock that is about 57,000,000 bushels larger than a year ago.

Canadian surplus stocks are huge and will provide a reservoir of wheat probably all through the Summer. The tariff advance announced a few days ago has not helped the demand, and the wheat situation at the moment demands more radical bull incentives to change the course of prices.

Bulls put up an aggressive fight in corn early, the tone being firm for some time. Later there was free selling and a decided break. This was due largely to long selling and to lack of outside support. Bullish deductions from the present statistical situation are easily made, but it is harder to bring in buying orders and the bulls apparently are not quite equal to the task. From a lower level there would be the basis of a splendid bull market, but with all the news now stale and buyers inclined to wait developments, we believe a much lower basis will have to be reached before there can be a healthy resumption of the buying campaign.

Chicago, March 12 (By B.A. Bond Wire)—Liquidation was on in earnest in the wheat market to-day. May wheat lost 2½ cents and closed near the low of the day. Bullish factors in wheat were made the most on the advance, but failed to get the market through the previous high price, and it now looks as if a period of adjustment to lower levels is in process. Corn resisted the weak influence in wheat, but lost a good fraction, recovering slightly just before the close. Sentiment has turned decidedly bearish on wheat and it is difficult to see a definite turn for the better in the near future.

COTTON GOSSIP

New York, March 12.—The most encouraging feature in cotton just now seems to lie not in the fact that the market shows any firm advancing tendency, but rather in the fact that the steady decline of recent weeks seems to have been checked, and the market to be more stablized.

"On any good setbacks we think that cotton could be purchased in reasonable safety," Housman says.

SUGAR GOSSIP

New York, March 12 (by B. A. Bond wire)—Public interest in sugar trading is limited and while the movement from Cuba is at it's peak enthusiasm on the long side is somewhat cooled, but the fact that Cuban raws maintain themselves so firmly between 5¼ and 5⅛ in spite of the heavy Cuban receipts, affords little encouragement for short selling. We think the next move in sugar is likely to be upward, but we do not know just when such a movement will occur.

ONTARIO LIQUOR VOTE APPROVED

Toronto, March 12.—The Ontario Government's temperance act plebiscite bill was given second reading in the Legislature early this morning by a vote of sixty-seven to twenty-two.

Manning Doherty's amendment for a six months' hoist was defeated by eighty to eleven. Only farmer members voted for the amendment.

The Liberals opposed the amendment on the ground that they did not approve a plebiscite as against a referendum now or six months hence.

Dougall Carmichael's amendment to the amendment setting forth the demand first for an indication of desire on the part of the people for a vote, and secondly that the Government first test the constitutionality of the proposal involved in the plebiscite bill, was declared out of order in that it did not amend any previous amendment.

VICTORIA STOCKS

MARKET IS QUIET AS DUNWELL FALLS

Dunwell retained its reputation as an unruly stock yesterday when it dropped from a slight raise and sold for $4.00. Fifty shares went at this figure, and the present price is in the same neighborhood.

Trading has not been brisk for the past few days on the Victoria Exchange, and the generally solid condition for all mining stock has been held. Brokers of Victoria expect that in the course of two weeks or more, there will be a revived activity here, as mainland capital is scheduled to come in the direction of Stewart district mining stock. Already Seattle investors have begun speculating in local stocks, and Vancouver will in all probability follow these in the near future.

Premier mine stock, although the issue has been closed, and no stock is selling on the market, nevertheless shows a slight rise in price, owing to the private dealings which have been negotiated lately.

Independence, Rufus and Glacier Creek shares are maintaining their standards. There has been little or no change in their prices during the last few days.

The prices on the local market at noon to-day were:—

WINNIPEG GRAIN

Winnipeg, March 12.—General economic conditions, lack of demand and heavy stocks, together with general liquidation, had a weakening influence on to-day's wheat market and the May future dropped below the dollar mark. Final prices showed a loss of 1⅝ for May and July, while October was 1⅛ lower.

Interest on Railway Bonds and Dividends From New Gold Bank

Paris, March 12—The experts who are investigating Germany's economic and financial situation will hold a plenary session this afternoon.

The plan for settling the reparations tangle, the general lines of which have been agreed upon unanimously by the Reparations Commission experts, calls for the collection of progressively mounting sums annually, according to the rapidity of Germany's recovery, for a tentative period of five years. There will be three principal sources of revenue—first, excise taxes on various monopolies, such as matches, spirits and tobacco; second, interest from bonds to be issued by Germany's railways up to approximately their estimated valuation, and third, dividends from stock in the new gold issue bank.

MINIMUM STATED

To reduce as far as possible Allied control over Germany's production and to give Germany the necessary incentive to produce, the plan stipulates the minimum amount that must be set aside for the Allies from each of the three sources of revenue. Once Germany satisfies this minimum, which the experts are trying to place at a reasonable figure, all the surplus will go to the German Treasury. If Germany's producing capacity increases above the scale of payments fixed, the plan provides that at the end of five years there will be a revision of the scale of payments.

RADIO VELOCITY WAS MEASURED

Time From New Brunswick, N.J., to Warsaw and Return .13 of a Second

Interesting Experiment Made by Radio Corporation of America

Washington, March 12—What was said to have been the first attempt at accurate measurement of the velocity of radio impulses was made here last night by experts of the Radio Corporation of America. With a motion picture film device used as the measuring instrument, a radio signal was recorded as making a complete circuit of 8,500 miles in .054 of a second between the corporation's sending station at New Brunswick, N.J., and Warsaw, Poland.

A powerful fourteen-tube set, with which the timing device operated, caught the signal as it was sent from a key in the Radio Corporation's office in New York and again as it came back on a lower wave length from Warsaw. The photographic record was produced by an indicator attached to the receiving set, and the time was measured by the distance between the photographic impressions on the film.

In calculating the transmission time of the radio signal, a carefully figured deduction was made for the slower wire transmission between the sending key and the broadcasting point on this side and between the receiving and sending stations at Warsaw. With the wire transmission included the lapse of time between the sending and return of the signal was figured at .13 of a second.

BROWN THIRD MAN TO BE RE-ELECTED SEATTLE MAYOR

Seattle, March 12—Dr. Edwin J. Brown, a dentist, shown by complete returns of the municipal election yesterday to have received a majority over Alfred H. Lundin, former prosecuting attorney of King County, was the third man in Seattle's history to be re-elected Mayor.

Dr. Brown, who won after a hard campaign that evoked a heavy vote, has served two years. His opponents asserted that the police, who are under his absolute control, had allowed law violation to mount.

John E. Carroll, incumbent, William Hickman Moore, former Mayor and former Councilman, Ralph D. Nichols, former State Senator, and W. T. Campbell, were elected to the Council.

Ebenezer Shorrock, banker, incumbent, and Dr. Edward Lincoln Smith, former pastor of a leading Congregational Church of the city, were elected to the School Board.

A.O.F. JUVENILES

Courts Canada and Excelsior, Juvenile Courts of the Ancient Order of Foresters, will hold their regular meeting to-morrow at 7.30 p.m. After the meeting a birthday party will take place and an exceptionally large turnout is expected. Games, dancing and refreshments will be provided, the adult committee furnishing the latter. All juveniles and their young friends will be admitted free of charge, but a small charge will be made for adults. All Foresters and interested friends are cordially invited. The Foresters' Orchestra will be in attendance.

Don't forget to look for the opening chapter of Mildred Barbour's "Starved Hearts," the new daily serial story, in to-morrow's (Thursday) Times.

The reformer must be sincere, after all. He labors ceaselessly to work himself out of a job.

TELLS M.P.'S FREIGHT RATE CHANGE NEEDED

Lucas, Alberta Progressive, Says Equalization Great Need of West

Ottawa, March 12.—W. T. Lucas, Progressive member for Victoria, Alberta, addressing the Commons last evening, expressed the hope that some way could be found whereby Alberta coal could be laid down in Ontario on a commercial basis.

He complained of the high freight rates through the Rockies, saying the natural outlet for Alberta products was by the way of the mountain passes to the Pacific, but the high freight rates handicapped the shipper. Equalization of freight rates was one of the greatest needs of the Far West.

Alberta, he said, was the greatest sufferer of all the prairie provinces because goods coming from the East or shipped to the East had to pay the long haulage, while commodities moving West were charged the mountain scale.

Some Conservative speakers, said Mr. Lucas, had intimated the Progressives were selling their birthright for a mess of pottage; but if the Conservatives brought up any measure which Progressives thought to be in the best interests of the whole of Canada they would support the Conservatives in that measure just as readily as they had supported the present Government.

APPOINTMENT OF JUDGES

Mr. Lucas made a plea for the independence of the judiciary. He did not suggest the judges were unworthy of confidence, but he thought it of the utmost importance that they should be moved above all suspicion. With that in view, he suggested the appointment of judges should be removed from politics and placed in the hands of the law societies and bar associations. At present it was felt that a man was often rewarded for political activity by a seat on the bench, and it was not in the best interests of the country that this should be the case.

BY CANADIAN PORTS

Dr. Murray Maclaren, Conservative, St. John, N.B., supported a view expressed earlier in the debate that the British preference should be confined to goods entering through Canadian ports.

VAMPISH ROOSTER REALLY TO BLAME

Amorous Bird Abducted His Chickens, Argues Accused

A Black Minorca hen with Rhode Island Red foster parents was the principal in a police court trial this morning. Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, 848 Pandora Avenue, identified the bird as her property. It was two years of age, and she had raised it from a chick, said the complainant.

John Cory, 843 Pandora Avenue, the "house across the way," was equally positive the bird was one of four pullets he purchased at an auction sale. He had paid $1.10 for it, said Mr. Cory, who was accused of abducting the hen from the fowl house of Mrs. Jones.

EXPERT TESTIMONY

Both complainant and accused positively identified the bird, and the hen. "Exhibit 1" complicated matters by scolding both witnesses impartially. It was at this stage that Constable Andrew Woods, for thirty years a poultry fancier, pierced the clouds of doubt with expert testimony. The hen, he said, was two years old, as it had spurs on its legs to prove it.

Constable Allen gave the start of the story to the court. On Sunday last he had visited the home of the accused who admitted taking the bird from the hen house across the street, but protested he was its owner. The officer carried the bird over to Mrs. Jones who had identified it positively.

THE ABDUCTION

On the stand Mrs. Jones stated that at Christmas time she had kept a dozen birds, but they had been disappearing one after another until now only three remained. On Sunda ythe accused entered her property, chased the Black Minorca hen into the woodshed and walked off with it, meanwhile upbraiding witness who sought to stay the abduction. Miss Mabel Wood corroborated Mrs Jones' story.

Giving his occupation as a second hand dealer, Mr. Cory testified he had purchased four pullets from Maynard's Auction Rooms for $4.40. They were "black with red feathers around the neck." He ate one, which left three. One of the three, he swore, had been enticed across the road and into his neighbor's woodshed by a rooster belonging to Mrs. Jones. He had gone to get it back.

THE REAL ABDUCTOR

It was not the first time that this rooster had decoyed his chickens away, asserted witness.

Magistrate—You will have to get a rooster, Mr. Cory.

Mr. Harrison—Then he'll bring chickens to your yard.

Mrs. Jones "wouldn't listen to reason," asserted witness, continuing his story, so he had picked up the bird and brought it home. It was at this stage that Constable Woods settled the matter by deciding the bird was not a pullet, but two years of age.

There had been no intent to steal, pleaded N. W. Whittaker, counsel for the defence. There would have been no trouble if the Jones's rooster had not crossed the road. Mr. Cory really believed the hen was his property.

Magistrate Jay agreed that there had been no intent to steal, but held on the expert testimony of Constable Woods that the hen was a two-year-old and therefore the lawful property of Mrs. Jones. The charge would be dismissed, but "Exhibit 1" would be returned to Mrs. Jones.

The bird greeted the judgment with a cackle which, while no more intelligible than the rest of its utterances during the trial, indicated, thought Constable Woods, that it contemplated adding to its capital value by the interim dividend of an egg.

Regina, March 12.—Melville Millionaires won the senior amateur hockey championship here last night when they defeated Regina Vics, 4-0. The game was the replay of a protested game won last week by Regina at Saskatoon.

DISCREDITS AIM OF PROVINCIAL PARTY

The Minister dealth with the record of the former Conservative Government, showing how its policies had ruined the credit of the Province. He reminded his audience of the large commissions paid by the old Government for trivial services by its friends. He quoted a number of examples of these excessive payments.

HEALTH NEGLECTED

The old Government, Dr. MacLean asserted, had neglected the health of the Province. British Columbia, he recalled, had the lowest death rate from tuberculosis of any province in Canada when the Conservative Government took office, but when it retired thirteen years later the death-rate here was higher than in any other part of the Dominion.

Instead of spending money to conserve the health of the people the old Government had spent millions in building court houses and jails, many of the former of which were but rarely used. Many of the jails, he added, have been remodeled and are now used for hospitals and schools. There were plenty of funds under the Conservative regime for enterprises which gave "the boys" some money, but little for essential social services, he asserted.

Answering the charge of the Opposition that increased taxation is driving capital away from the Province Dr. MacLean quoted the report of the Manufacturers' Association of British Columbia showing that the number of manufacturing plants in the Province had increased from 1,007 in 1915 to 2,809 in 1922. The number of employees in industrial plants had increased from 21,054 in 1915 to 55,000 and the wages paid from $14,500,000 to $86,100,000. The value of production in these plants had risen from $73,000,000 to $240,000,000.

AGRICULTURE

An increase in agricultural production from $23,000,000 in 1911 to $11,000,000 in 1921, Dr. MacLean remarked, was another evidence of the Province's progress.

Discussing provincial finances, Dr. MacLean said the net debt of the Province was $38,000,000, or a per capita debt of $68. On the other hand, the assets of the Province, he stated, as represented by merchantable timber, cultivated lands, highways and other collateral amounts to $133.40 per person. This, he declared, put British Columbia in a better position than any other part of Canada.

Dr. MacLean concluded by tracing the social and labor legislation enacted by the Oliver Government.

VALUE OF EDUCATION

J. B. Clearihue, M.P.P., spoke briefly following Dr. MacLean's retirement from the platform, dealing briefly with various criticisms of British Columbia's educational system. He emphasized the value of education in preparing young men and women for the task of developing the natural resources of the country, and that they might be better fitted to compete with persons from other countries who were apt to try to capitalize Canada's industries for their own good.

Education of the individual child in this Province costs less than in any other part of Western Canada, he stated, quoting figures to prove and support his assertion.

Also, he stated, the present Government in this Province was far more generous in its grants for education to the municipalities and rural districts than was the case in other parts of the Dominion. The Government realized the value of education in the developing of British Columbia, he asserted.

Alderman William Marchant was chairman of the evening, and several vocal selections were rendered.

Excerpt from Report for Year 1923

Operating expenses and taxes for the six months and twenty days ending Dec. 31, 1923, amounted to $210,647.37, which is a decrease of $7,755.81, or 3.5 per cent., under those of the previous year. This reduction is practically all due to savings in operating expenses and has been brought about by affecting many operating economies in both departments. The per cent. of operating expenses to gross earnings has been reduced from 69.9 per cent. to 65.7 per cent. As a result of the moderate increase in gross earnings and the decrease in operating expenses and taxes, the net earnings show an increase of $16,230.85, or 21.4 per cent.

IN MEMORIAM

ELLIS—In loving memory of Amos Ellis who passed away March 13, 1923.

A long, long year has passed.
One which left a saddened heart.
Also a seat at the table,
And a place by the fireside hearth.

But I know he is sleeping peacefully,
Now in the Promised Land;
But how it would lighten my heart
Just to feel the touch of his hand.

He was taken away with a smile,
One that he always meant;
It seems such a long time ago,
But only twelve months this Lent.

Oh, how I miss his laughter,
And his love from a heart so bold!
But now I can rest in peace,
I know he has found his goal.
—Inserted by his wife.

ISLAND FARMERS' INSTITUTES NOW NUMBER 29

Have Membership of 1,400; Metchosin Institute Meets

Metchosin, March 11.—The directors of the Metchosin Farmers' Institute met last night at the home of Director M. F. Brown, the chair being taken by the president, C. E. Whitney-Griffiths.

The report of the advisory board was read and received with satisfaction by the board. The report showed among other important matters that the potato extension work is fully cared for, as additional money has been secured to carry it on, and to bring about a proper organization of the industry for marketing as well as educational purposes.

ROTA SYSTEM

Changes in the rules and regulations have been passed governing farmers' institutes, and a recommendation forwarded by the advisory board that directors be elected on the "rota" system, the term suggested being two years.

The president also in his report stated that a better understanding had been arrived at with the Lands Department regarding the burning of slashings. Also that field crop competitions will very probably be restarted by the Department of Agriculture, and the welcome news to farmers that Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, has again made provision in the estimates for continuation of the rebate on stumping powder.

Following a discussion on the question of school taxes, the president informed the board that the attention of the Legislature had been drawn to the need for a very close examination of the school taxation situation, and the need for a complete census or survey of Asiatic conditions in the Province. The president also announced that the membership of Vancouver Island institutes has now reached over 1,400, with a total of twenty-nine institutes.

WILL TRY AGAIN

The report of the Convention of Farmers' Institutes, which it will be remembered was adjourned on motion of "sine die" was discussed, and the directors were of the opinion that in the interests of the B.C. institutes the convention should be held at a future date at the call of the chairman. The matter was left in the hands of the president to act as future circumstances warrant.

The directors were also of the opinion that an assessment of 25c per member, as adopted this year in the Nelson and Westminster centres, to provide funds for paying a legislative representative at Victoria should be made, and the question will be placed before the members at a regular meeting to be held in the near future, for their consideration and final decision at the next annual meeting.

COLWOOD ROAD

Hon. Dr. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, will be asked by the board for an early commencement of the bituminous treatment of the Colwood and Luxton road, and also for some remedy for the dangerous surface of pavement between Parsons Bridge and Colwood during the wet weather.

Arrangements are under hand for meetings to be held at Colwood and Luxton, when motion pictures on sheep, swine and poultry will be shown and addresses given by Arthur Morton, Dominion Sheep Inspector, and Mr. Fairley, also of the Dominion Agricultural Department. The question of the local Fall Fair will also be discussed at these meetings, and the matter of forming a Fall Fair Association will be considered. The tentative dates of the meetings are: Colwood, March 20; Luxton, March 21.

The directors' returns of new members was extremely gratifying and the institute through its membership bids fair to be stronger this year than ever before since its inauguration.

ENDORSES PLAN FOR GAS CAR TO RUN OCCASIONALLY

Shawnigan Lake Residents Would be Grateful For Any Concession

Special to The Times

Shawnigan Lake, March 11.—The regular monthly meeting of the Shawnigan Women's Institute dealt with several matters of importance to the district. A recent item in the Victoria press regarding the matter of train service between Duncan and Victoria on the E. & N. had been the subject of discussion between the Victoria Chamber of Commerce and merchants of that city, was felt to be a timely one, and it was decided to send the following resolution to the Chamber of Commerce as voicing the feeling of the residents here:

"Whereas we, the members of the Shawnigan Lake Women's Institute, note with pleasure the recommendations of the merchants of Victoria to the Chamber of Commerce, at present investigating E. & N. Railway matters, that a gas car service be instituted between Victoria and Duncan;

"And whereas we have been trying for a long time to get a more convenient train service between Shawnigan and Victoria without result;

"And whereas under the present schedule passengers get about two and a half hours in Victoria, one hour of which is the lunch hour when it is not easy to transact business, the limited time does not warrant the expense of the journey, and the rural districts are relying more and more on the mail order houses in other provinces for their shopping, to the great detriment of the merchants of Victoria;

"Resolved that we heartily cooperate in any steps the Chamber of Commerce may take to induce the E. & N. Railway Co. to (a) institute a gas car service or, if not feasible (b) run a "shopping train" once a week, or oftener, for the convenience of the district between Victoria and Duncan."

This resolution was carried unanimously.

After the business of the institute was completed, Kenneth Duncan, M.P.P., addressed the meeting on "Legislation for Women." Briefly explaining the Infants' Act, the employment of Children Act, and Testators and Family Act, he went more fully into the Mothers' Pensions and Workmen's Compensation Act, as they were particularly widespreading in their effect. Many questions were asked and a very interesting discussion followed.

LIBRARY OPENED

The library committee reported the successful opening of the Public Library, and it was unanimously decided to pay the rent and insurance for the first year out of institute funds.

Tea hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Barry, Mrs. Bloomquist and Miss Clark.

AGREE ON BASIS OF BRANCH

Horticultural Section of the Agricultural Society Meets

Duncan, March 11 — About forty people attended the meeting called for those interested in horticulture, and held at the agricultural hall on Monday evening. At a meeting of the directors of the Agricultural Society resolutions for the formation of a horticultural branch had been drawn up and these were presented to this meeting and after discussion accepted with slight modifications as follows: Paragraph (a) shall read, "The horticultural branch shall comprise those members of the Agricultural Society who shall signify their intention of joining such a branch and who shall pay any further membership fee in the event of such an additional fee being decided upon," cutting out the words "three persons appointed by the Agricultural Society"; (b) "This branch is to be governed by a committee of five persons chosen by the members of the branch"; (c). "The additional membership fee and all other monies raised by the branch shall be controlled by the branch"; (d) "Facilities for buying and selling and secretarial work will be provided by the Agricultural Society."

The membership fee to the horticultural branch was fixed at 25c.

Provisional directors were appointed subject to these amendments being accepted by the Agricultural Society; they were Mrs. F. S. Leather, Mrs. Dawson Thomas, Col. Sheridan Rice, L. W. Huntington and W. de B. Hopkins.

A series of field days when the different bulbs and plants are in bloom will be held throughout the year, the first, for the early Spring bulbs, in a few weeks' time.

RURAL NURSING SERVICE MEETING

Colwood, March 11.—The executive committee of the Esquimalt Rural Nursing Service met last night to discuss details in connection with the dental clinic which they hope to establish in the districts comprising the health centre, namely, Colwood, Happy Valley and Luxton, Albert Head and Goldstream.

The public health nurse in charge of the service was given permission to attend the "refresher" conference of public health nurses, to be held in Vancouver under the Provincial Health Department, April 23 to 26 inclusive. Arrangements will be made for Mrs. Weeks of Luxton to attend to any calls for the nurse that might be made during Miss Kelly's absence. The report of the service for the month of February is as follows: Seven schools visited, twelve visits to schools, eighty pupils examined, fifty-six home-school visits, ten health talks given, seven social service visits, fourteen telephone consultations, thirty Metropolitan nursing visits, ten paid nursing visits, fifteen free nursing visits to school children. Girls' health club formed at Luxton and Happy Valley.

It is also interesting to note that the public health nurse in charge of the service has been appointed convener of the child welfare committees of the women's institutes in the districts covered by the association, Colwood, Luxton and Happy Valley, and also has received the appointment from the Langford Women's Institute, a face which is a matter of considerable satisfaction to the association, as they feel that they have the backing of the women's institutes in their great work in the community.

The Mystery Road

By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

Author of

"Nobody's Man," "The Profiteers," Etc.

He sat upright now, leaning a little forward. They were round the corner, in sight of the little grove of cypresses. And there at the gate—Myrtile!—Gerald gave a little exclamation which sounded almost like a sob. His incredulous stare had something in alike of pain and fear.

"I wrote her days ago and said that we should be passing," Christopher hastily explained.

She stepped out into the road to greet them. Even to Christopher, her coming was almost like a vision. The small differences of clothing and circumstance seemed scarcely to exist. It was Myrtile who welcomed them, shyly but joyfully. Her eyes were fixed upon Gerald, and there was a touch of sublime pity in them as she realized the change. But from her face shone the same things.

"You will come in and see my home?" she begged. "The car can turn in here. The road is better than it used to be."

"I am tired of the car," Gerald said. "I would rather walk."

They moved slowly down through the cypress avenue, Gerald leaning a little on Myrtle's arm, Christopher loitering behind. On one side were the formal lines of the closely pruned vines, protruding from the rich brown earth; on the other a flush of purple from the field of violets. Myrtile answered some half intelligible question from Gerald.

"I am very happy here," she assured him. "There is so much to do. I have broken up some more of the land for growing violets, and presently I will show you my carnations. The vineyards, too, needed a lot of attention; they had been very much neglected. I hope you like the color of the house? I had it painted pink because of the background. And you see what a lovely verandah I have had built? By moving a few yards one gets the sun all day."

"It is the most restful and the most beautiful place I have ever been in," Gerald murmured. "Tell me, Myrtile," he added, "do you know all that has happened to me?"

"Everything! Christopher has written, and I had a long letter, too, from your father. Please do not speak of those things which are finished. You are here to forget."

Involuntarily he looked away towards the road and turned back with a shiver. Whatever his thoughts might have been, he said nothing. A little French maid, in spotless white cap and apron, came out on to the verandah in reply to Myrtile's call.

"A bottle of our own wine and glasses," Myrtile ordered, "some fruit, and the sandwiches I told you to have ready, Marie. Gerald, you must take the sofa chair."

Gerald sank into a sea of cushions. Myrtile, bending over him, arranged them more comfortably. Her eyes were soft with the shadow of tears. Gerald, more weary than he had confessed, seemed for a moment almost to doze.

Christopher nodded.

"It is the journey," he answered. "I wish that it were over."

The wine was brought, but Gerald was now in a deep sleep. Christopher and Myrtile sat at the other end of the verandah and talked in an undertone. Presently the sun began to sink behind the forest-crowned hills, westwards. A cool breeze came stealing across the valley. Myrtile rose suddenly to her feet.

"He must not sleep any longer," she said firmly. "He ought not to be out at all as late as this."

They tried to rouse him. Three times Christopher laid his hand upon his shoulder and called him by name. There was no response. Gerald was sleeping heavily, his breathing was regular, the lines seemed to have faded from his face.

"It is the first time he has slept like this for weeks," Christopher declared. "It seems a shame to wake him."

"Don't," she begged eagerly. "You see the chair has castors. Wheel it into the sitting-room, and if he doesn't wake, leave him here. Marie and I can look after him, and Pierre, my head man, is a treasure. He can carry him upstairs if it were necessary."

"We'll move him in and see if he wakes, anyhow," Christopher agreed.

They wheeled him into Myrtile's sitting-room, sweet and flower-scented, without his showing the slightest sign of being disturbed. Myrtile closed the outer doors and lit the fire of pine logs and cones which was already prepared upon the hearth. Then she and Christopher stole from the room.

"This may be his salvation," Christopher declared hopefully.

There were tears in Myrtile's eyes. All the time she seemed to be listening

"Leave him with me, Christopher," she begged. "He needs rest."

Christopher nodded.

"I'll send two of his bags down from the car," he proposed, "and some of us will come and have a look at him in a few days. His servant can stay here if you like, so that you have help if you want it."

She smiled through her tears.

"I shall need no help," she promised. "I will cure Gerald. Tell Lady Mary and Lord Hinterleys that I promise it. Only leave him alone with me. Do not come, any of you, until I send. If he wishes to leave, I can hire a car from San Raphael—he can be with you in a few hours. But I think he will be content. I think he will get better here."

"And now," Christopher said, as their car crawled up the last ascent, "to see if Myrtile has kept her word!"

"Personally," Lord Hinterleys declared, "I am confident. That young woman has powers beyond the ordinary human being's. Besides, our telegrams every day have assured us that all is well."

SASKATCHEWAN M.P.P. SCORED PHYSICIANS

Regina, March 12.—H. E. Jones, Liberal member for Tisdale, made an attack on the medical profession during the debate in the Saskatchewan Legislature yesterday afternoon. He found his opening when the House was in committee of the whole to deal with a bill to amend the Medical Profession Act. He charged the men who look after the health of the people with attempting to operate a "closed corporation," declared it was high time the Government was taking some steps to protect the people rather than adding to the powers of the medicos, and went into the financial field of his subject by referring to the high fees charged by the medical men for services rendered.

Despite the knocks, the sponsors of the bill succeeded in passing the clause that jumped the registration fee from $50 to $100. The bill is still in the committee stage.

The report of the committee on agriculture with reference to the application for funds from the surplus of the Wheat Board secured the sanction of the members of the House. Not a vote was registered against the endorsation.

CONTRACTORS' LETTER IN REPLY TO CHARGES BY ROSSITER READ

Engineer's Letter Asking His Attention to Be Called to Any Abnormal Charges Is Also Produced at P.G.E. Inquiry

A letter from A. F. Proctor, former engineer for the Government on the P.G.E. railway construction, asking E. J. Rossiter, former accountant for the Government and star witness for the Provincial Party in the Pacific Great Eastern inquiry before Justice Galliher, to immediately draw his (Mr. Proctor's) attention to any charges of the Northern Construction Company which might be taken exception to, was produced in evidence yesterday.

A further lengthy letter from the Northern Construction Company dealing in detail with Rossiter's complaints on the contractors' charges was also read. That the charge for head office expenses, which the witness had criticized, was agreed upon at the beginning of the contract and fell short of the actual amount incurred and the receipts of sub-contractors were in his office for other items which he disputed, were among the claims the contracting company made.

Rossiter questioned a charge of $12.80, fare to Ashcroft, while the fare was only $8.25. Regarding the letter which he wrote on January 5, 1919, objecting to items in the Northern Construction Company's estimates he called attention to an item of $42.25 for stamps which coupled with other items appeared to have been paid three times.

"Do you swear this item was triplicated?" he was asked.—"I think so," he replied.

"Do you swear to it?" he was pressed. "I think so," he replied, but I can't remember five years ago."

Expense accounts of J. F. Mercer were criticized by witness who said that his complaints resulted in no improvements.

SOLDIER ASSISTANT

Witness also referred to the appointment of an assistant to him in 1919. A returned man who had lost a leg was sent to him, he said, after a six months course. "Unfortunately the last stage was worse than the first. I had to keep him on my knee for six weeks to teach him simple rudiments. He made things worse." Eventually Mr. Proctor sent the man away on other work.

Replies to letters written by Rossiter to the engineer were read by S. S. Taylor, K.C., Government counsel. A. F. Proctor wrote to witness under date January 9, 1920 stating in part:

"I will be obliged if in future you will draw my attention immediately to anything that may appear abnormal in connection with the work. I will investigate any items you may see fit to call my attention to."

REDUCED AMOUNT

A further memo from the engineer to Rossiter suggested that the sum of $75,000 should be held back from the Northern Construction Company. To this witness admitted writing suggesting that the sum of $25,000 should be held back.

Asked by Mr. Taylor why he did so he replied. "I did not believe in the engineer's hostility to the contractors. I did not believe he would hold back that amount and thought if I suggested a smaller amount he might hold it back.

"We will cross-examine you on that later," commented Mr. Taylor.

Following an argument on payments to the Northern Construction Company the Commission asked D. S. Tait, provincial party counsel, if he claimed that the government had advanced money to the construction company before the work was done. Mr. Tait replied that he claimed this had been done.

"My friend knows more about it than the Deputy Minister of Finance who swore to the contrary," remarked J. W. de B. Farris.

Mr. Taylor remarked that he was prepared to admit that money had been advanced to the Northern Construction Company before the engineer had signed the monthly estimates.

Continuing his evidence Rossiter took exception to lumber invoices. They did not say whether it was No. 1 grade lumber or No. 2. He took the matter up with the lumber men verbally and they claimed it was No. 1, but they did not show it on the invoices.

A lengthy letter from the Northern Construction Company to the engineer dealing with Rossiter complaints was produced by Mr. Taylor.

EXPENSE ACCOUNTS

Regarding expense accounts of superintendents the letter stated that it was not the policy of the company to call for detailed expense accounts from their superintendents. They were men who had control of large expenditures and were men in whom the company had every confidence and they never questioned their bills submitted for expenses.

In answer to the charge that personal freight had been carried for employees of the Northern Construction Company, the letter stated that the company made a practice of carrying a reasonable amount of personal freight for men on outside work.

The charge of $1425.00 head office expenditure drawn into question by Rossiter was referred to.

"This was discussed with you at the beginning of the contract," the letter stated, "and it was arranged we should make a reasonable charge against the work."

The letter stated that the charge did not apply to any specific employee as the work was distributed through the Vancouver office of the company. "I am sure, however," said the writer, "if you were to make a check at the Vancouver office of the expenses and percentage of work on this contract you will find the cost in excess of $2000."

Other charges questioned by Mr. Rossiter, the writer stated were charges against the subcontractors, the receipts for which were in Rossiter's office."

Mr. Taylor pointed out that the letters were addressed to Proctor but were actually for Rossiter, as it had been a practice for Rossiter to sign letters for Proctor.

Claiming that Rossiter had been told time and again by the engineer of the charge for head office expenses which had been agreed upon, a direct question was put to witness to this effect. "I don't think so," he replied as Government counsel exchanged smiles at the indefinite form of the witness's answer.

Capital was made by the government counsel of the fact that the sum of $68,000 held from the contractors by Rossiter was reduced to $9,000.

The Commissioner—"When you passed the accounts and handed them into the Government for payment was there any limit, making them subject to audit?" "No I don't think so."

PLAN PEACE ESSAY FOR CITY SCHOOLS

Memorial to the Late Rev. William Stevenson

A finance committee of the Rev. William Stevenson Memorial Association was formed last night to receive funds for a memorial to the late minister. The plan for a world's peace essay competition among the schools of the city was presented, and a delegation will seek the approval of the school trustees to-night. A recommendation was also made in favor of maintaining the High School gardens.

Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin submitted a report on the essay. It was proposed to hold yearly competitions for medals. There would be a division of the competitors under the heads of entrance class pupils; first, second, third and fourth year students in the High School, and students of the Victoria College. The leading essays in each class would be submitted to judges who would be appointed by a joint committee representing the Memorial Association, the educational authorities, and the World's Alliance for Peace.

Officers were elected at the meeting as follows: President, Dr. Lewis Hall; vice-president, Ald. E. S. Woodward; secretary, H. H. Holland; treasurer to be selected by the executive committee. The executive will consist of the officers, the chairmen of the various committees, and seven from the association, who were selected as follows: Angus Galbraith, Rev. J. B. Warnicker, Miss Graves, Mrs. Boyden, Rev. Mr. Freeman, Mrs. Christopher and Miss Christopher.

A finance committee was selected as follows: James Maynard, Fred McGregor, Dr. Fred Eilers, Dr. W. Russell, Rev. J. B. Warnicker, Alfred Johnson, Angus Galbraith, James Parfitt and M. Jameson.

The committee on the peace essay contest was named as Mrs. MacLaurin and W. V. Pierce.

The hospital visitation committee was named as Mrs. Boyd, Miss Clay, Mr. Warnicker and Dan Poupard.

Berlin, March 12.—Hugo Stinnes, the industrial magnate, who is confined to his bed by a nervous condition brought on by overwork, will be able to travel within a few days, it is announced by his physicians, and will probably depart for a health resort outside Germany.
